M.L. ROTHSCHILD WILLS $420,000 FOR CHARITIES

Widow to Get Half of Estate.

David Mayer Jr.

The will of Maurice L. Rothschild, State street merchant, giving $420,000 to charities and substantial gifts to relatives, business associates, and friends, was made public yesterday. Mr. Rothschild, founder and head of the store bearing his name at State street and Jackson boulevard, died April 23 after a long career in Chicago.

The full value of his estate was not learned. The will leaves a total of $967,000 in specific bequests, however, and it is believed that the final valuation may exceed $2,000,000. The will is to be filed for probate soon.

Mayer Made President.

It was announced that David Mayer Jr., vice president of the store, had been made company president. Mr. Mayer, chairman of the State Street council, has been with the company for the last 27 years, having joined it immediately after his graduation from Yale. He announced that Mr. Rothschild's policies will be carried on, and that the store will retain its founder's name.

Under the terms of Mr. Rothschild's will, half of his estate is left to his widow, Mrs. Hulda B. Rothschild, and the other half is placed in trust to meet his numerous charitable and other bequests. Nearly half of the $967,000 in specific bequests goes to charities.

Of the balance, some is left to educational and art institutions, some to benefit and employé associations in Chicago, Minneapolis and St. Paul, where he also had stores, and the rest to individuals.

Details of Bequests.

Following are the bequests—showing beneficiaries and amounts—as grouped in general classifications:

Charities in Chicago—Community Fund of Chicago, $50,000; Provident hospital, $20,000; Michael Reese hospital, $100,000; Jewish Charities of Chicago, $100,000; Jewish Peoples' Institute, $20,000; Country Home for Convalescent Crippled Children, $5,000.

Charities outside of Chicago—Community Fund of Minneapolis, $20,000; Community Fund of St. Paul, $20,000; Little Sisters of the Poor, Minneapolis, $10,000; St. Paul Jewish Charities, $10,000; Minneapolis Jewish Charities, $10,000.

Bequests to Education.

Education and art—University of Chicago, for scholarship purposes, $25,000, and the Art Institute of Chicago, for scholarship purposes, $5,000.

Benefit and employé associations—Michael Reese Hospital Nurses' Benevolent fund [which is to include, among other things, a yearly gift of bouquets at graduation], $25,000; Maurice L. Rothschild, Inc., Employés Benefit association, Chicago, $10,000; a similar association in Minneapolis, $5,000, and a like association in St. Paul, $2,500; the Maurice L. Rothschild Business Associates Benevolent fund, $200,000.

Personal bequests—David Mayer Jr., $25,000; Benjamin Rimskie, business associate, $10,000; Theodore Pareira, business associate, $5,000; Josephine Gross, secretary, $1,000.

Relatives Remembered.

Bequests to relatives included the following:

Theresa Rothschild and Gusta Pflaum, sisters, each one-tenth of the trust estate, and to the two daughters of Sophie Simon, a deceased sister, together one-tenth; Florence Simon Lackner, Sylvia Simon Frank, Ruth Drucker, nieces, and Leo Pflaum, nephew, $50,000 each; Robert Mayer, nephew, $15,000; Barbit Bloom, Mrs. Rothschild's mother, $10,000.

Ira Frank Jr., George Drucker Jr., John Lackner, Barbara Frank, Barbara Drucker, and Susan Lackner, grandnephews and grandnieces, $5,000 each; Florrie Mayer, sister-in-law, $5,000; Cora Block, sister-in-law, $2,500.

Joseph Mayer Jr., Dr. Julius Lackner, and Dr. Ira Frank, nephews, $5,000 each; L. E. Block, brother-in-law, $2,500; Joseph L. Block, Leigh Block, Babette B. Desheim, Roslyn Pflaum, George Drucker, and Eleanor D. Saidenberg, nephews and nieces, $1,000 each, and Samuel Steele, friend, $2,500.

Executors and trustees under the will are Mrs. Rothschild, David Mayer Jr., Benjamin Rimskie, Abraham J. Pflaum, and the First National Bank of Chicago.

In addition to the elevation of Mr. Mayer, other store officials elected yesterday were Mr. Rimskie, vice president and treasurer; Mr. Pareira, vice president and secretary; Robert Mayer, vice president, and Thomas R. Beacon of the First National bank, a director.

HERMAN TRADED TO DODGERS FOR GILBERT AND CASH

Billy Herman, veteran second baseman of the Chicago Cubs, was traded to the Brooklyn Dodgers for Outfielder Charley Gilbert and an undisclosed amount of cash, it was announced in New York early this morning by James Gallagher, general manager of the Cubs. Gilbert was sent to Montreal of the International league, a Dodger farm, two weeks ago. The Cubs also announced purchase of Johnny Hudson, Montreal infielder, for $25,000.

SHUT-INS TO GET RECORD BLOOMS ON LILAC DAYS

Set Thursday and Friday for Gifts.

LILAC TRAINS.

On page 3 is a map showing routes and time schedules of trains that will carry your lilacs to Chicago for distribution to shut-ins on Thursday and Friday.

Thursday and Friday will be lilac days.

Flower lovers thruout Chicagoland will share their lilacs with the sick and with shut-ins in the city's hospitals and institutions on those days.

Special trains will bear the bouquets from the country to terminal stations in the city. There they will be picked up in trucks and delivered to patients in hospitals, settlements, old people's homes, and orphanages.

The lilacs distributed Thursday will go largely to hospitals and institutions on the south and the west sides. Patients in north and northwest side institutions will receive their lilacs Friday.

13th Annual Distribution.

This is the 13th annual "Share Your Lilacs" campaign sponsored by the Chicago Plant, Flower, and Fruit guild and THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Last year 82,400 bouquets were distributed to 23,000 shut-ins in 147 hospitals and institutions. This year the campaigners hope to share lilacs with the patients of more than 155 institutions and hospitals.

Reports from suburban communities indicate the lilacs should reach their peak by Thursday and Friday. The bushes are loaded with flowers and the crop is expected to be the largest in more than 10 years.

Eighty-one Chicagoland garden clubs are coöperating with the guild in gathering the lilacs. The voluntary workers will supervise cutting the lilacs and delivering them to railroad stations. The trains will transport them free to Chicago, where Tribune trucks will distribute them among the various institutions.

2,000 to Join in Work.

More than 2,000 garden club members, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, students, and flower lovers will give freely of their time to see that shut-ins enjoy a breath of spring in the form of the fragrant blooms.

The "Share Your Lilacs" campaign was begun in 1929 and has grown to be one of the largest community enterprises of its type in the United States. All the work in getting the flowers from the bushes to the bedsides of shut-ins is done by volunteers, yet the work is so planned that thousands of gardeners in many communities share blooms with city shut-ins.

The blooms will come from towns in Indiana as far away as Crown Point and from virtually every Illinois community as far south as Chicago Heights and Joliet, westward to the Fox river valley, and into McHenry and Lake counties on the north as far as Woodstock and Waukegan.

SABATH REBUKED FOR ATTACK ON SENATE MEMBER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Representative Adolph J. [Rottenborough] Sabath [D., Ill.] was publicly rebuked in the house today for a flagrant violation of the house rules. Personal remarks and a newspaper editorial which Sabath had inserted in the Congressional Record were expunged at his own request after Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas had indicated he would order their elimination.

Sabath had inserted in last Friday's record a violent criticism of a Chicago speech made by Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], who is stumping the country in an effort to awaken the people to the war dangers of the administration's foreign policy. Sabath accompanied his remarks by an editorial taken from a Chicago afternoon newspaper which also attacked Senator Wheeler.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] offered a resolution to expunge the Sabath insertion from the record. Sabath had clearly violated the rule against criticism of a member of congress by another member, he remarked. Speaker Rayburn agreed with him and Sabath then obtained permission to withdraw his remarks and the editorial.

Sabath denied that he violated the rules intentionally.

City Council to Act Today on Daylight Time Extension

The city council is expected to act today on the proposed ordinance which would extend daylight saving time thru October. Daylight time now ends the last Sunday in September.

Before it votes, the council will be given the results of a city-wide post card poll which shows 56.8 per cent of those voting favor the daylight extension.

Results of the poll were announced last night by Ald. John J. Duffy [19th], who with Ald. John J. Grealis [44th] sponsored the daylight proposal. Duffy said he and Grealis shared the expense of the poll.

Poll Figures Projected.

Duffy said a projection of the figures in the poll showed that the extension would receive a plurality of 260,208 if a referendum were taken today. The projection was based on a total registration of 1,914,036 in Chicago at the last election. He said that applying the percentage to the 1,787,801 votes cast in that election the extension would carry with a plurality of 243,140.

Duffy mailed post card ballots to voters registered in each ward. The cards were mailed by an addressing company which picked names from the poll lists. Only one card was sent to a family.

The card asked a vote on whether daylight saving time should be extended thru October.

Referendum Now Required.

As the proposed ordinance goes before the council, it would not become effective until next year, and then only if approved at a referendum.

Both Grealis and Duffy had asked the judiciary committee to recommend that the daylight ordinance call for the extension thru this October and that a referendum be held at the November election to decide whether the public wanted the extention to affect subsequent years.

The five wards which in the post card poll showed the strongest sentiment for the extension, together with the percentage, were: 20th, 66.5 per cent; 42d, 66.4; 1st, 63.9; 3d, 63.4; and 43d, 63.3. In the 20th and 42d wards the vote was two to one for the extension. Only two wards voted against the extension, and the vote there was close. The 26th ward voted against it by 50.6 per cent, and the 32d ward by 50.2 per cent.

In the 5th ward, where Ald. Paul Douglas recently conducted a street corner poll, the post card poll showed sentiment to be 57.5 in favor of the extension. Ald Douglas' poll showed it to be 72 per cent for the extension. Duffy said he will invite aldermen to inspect the cards.

YOUTH PURSUES A LADY'S SMILE

Luck Is with Him, but Love? Who Knows?

The first lady told him her name and that she lived in Kansas City; also that she was a student at Stanford university in California.

The second—Lady Luck—paid him $19.50 for a $5 win ticket on Whirlaway, the Derby winner.

The excitement of winning $14.50 with the last $5 between him and his University of Arkansas schoolmate, Louis H. McClemmons, caused Archer to forget the name of the first lady, but he remembered Kansas City.

So, with his friend on the rear seat of the motorcycle, he set out for Kansas City to find Lady Love.

Soon Finds Lady Love.

Archer soon found Lady Luck was still with him. Speeding westward across southern Indiana on U. S. 150 he caught sight of Lady Love—in the rear seat of a large sedan ahead of him. The youth followed until her car stopped for gasoline. He slipped a note to Lady Love. At the next stop, on U. S. 50 in southern Illinois, she slipped a note to him saying, "Father disapproves."

Then Lady Luck deserted Archer. He lost sight of Lady Love's auto in St. Louis, but sped on to Kansas City, where he spent the night in a police station, his funds having been exhausted. His story appeared in the papers.

Shortly thereafter a girl telephoned the police station that she knew Lady Love. An officer phoned the home of John M. Linger, president of the real estate board. When Archer's name was mentioned the receiver banged.

Father Frowns on Romance.

When reporters called, Helen Linger, 26 years old, admitted she was Lady Love. But her father frowned on the romance and asked that it be forgotten. Archer is only 20, he said, and if he wished to communicate with Helen, he could write.

When Archer heard the bad news he cashed a $5 check and roared off on his motorcycle for his home at Fayetteville, Ark. He said he would write to Helen.

Britain, Iraq Shun Turkish Mediation Bid

LONDON, May 5 (AP).—Initial Turkish efforts to settle the dangerously flaring war at her back door in Iraq came to naught tonight, with Great Britain and Iraq each demanding withdrawal of the forces of the other before any attempt is made at peaceful settlement.

In an authorized statement the British said that "appreciating the friendly motives of the Turkish government" Britain has "felt compelled to point out that an essential prerequisite of entering into any negotiations is the withdrawal of Iraqi troops from Habbaniyah."

[The British statement in its first form said Britain had rejected the Turkish mediation offer, but it was immediately changed to the above qualified form.]

Habbaniyah is the British airdrome 60 miles west of Bagdad where British forces are holding out under the besieging fire of Iraqi artillery.

Rejection from Iraq.

At the same time, the German radio was heard in London quoting the Bagdad radio as saying that Iraq also had rejected the Turkish mediation offer. The broadcast said Iraq felt that a settlement could only be discussed after British troops [two contingents have been landed recently] left Iraq territory.

Cairo dispatches said the Egyptian government, as one Arabic speaking nation to another, also appealed to Iraq to seek a peaceful end to the hostilities.

Turkey, because of her geographical position between oil rich Iraq and oil hungry Germany whose troops occupy Greece and Bulgaria, expressed a vital interest in trying to end hostilities in Iraq before she might be dragged into the war between Britain and the axis.

Once Appealed to Hitler.

When the present fighting broke out last week, Iraq's premier, Rashid Ali al Gailani, was reported to have appealed to Adolf Hitler for military aid.

[British quarters in Cairo said that so far no German aid other than moral support and money furnished before the trouble started had shown up in Iraq for the forces of the premier.]

The British air force was reported officially tonight to have destroyed most of the British trained Iraqi air force in the undeclared war.

Solidly Entrenched at Basra.

British troops were said to be entrenched solidly at Basra, port at the head of the Persian gulf, and holding out at Habbaniyah after British planes had knocked out Iraqi artillery which began shelling the airport four days ago. Casualties at the airport were said to be "very few." British forces were said to have carried out "successful infantry patrols" against the attacking Iraqi forces last night.

Apparently supporting a report that Iraqi troops had shut off the oil pipeline to Haifa in British mandated Palestine was Britain's official acknowledgment that:

"After attacking an unarmed British construction party, which was in the vicinity, Iraqi forces on May 2 occupied Rutbah."

The "Halfway Oasis."

Rutbah is a desert bus and air communications center in western Iraq only a few miles from the vital pipe line carrying oil to service Britain's Mediterranean fleet. Rutbah is known as the "halfway oasis" between Iraq and Palestine.

[A Rome broadcast heard in America said an Iraqi communique had announced the occupation of all oil refining plants and oil wells.]

CALLS FOR JUMP IN PRODUCTION TO 'RULE AIR'

Steps Up Program to Aid Great Britain.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Secretary Stimson.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—In a surprise move tonight to enable Great Britain eventually to take the offensive against Germany, President Roosevelt radically revised the American aircraft production program. He issued orders for the production of hordes of heavy bombing planes, multiplying many times the number of these flying fortresses hitherto provided for.

The exact number called for in the suddenly changed schedule of production was kept secret in a confidential memorandum stating the new production rate which the President sent to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson. One report said the new objective is 500 long range four-motor bombers a month, the craft to be divided between the United States and Great Britain. Fewer than 20 such ships are being produced now in a calendar month.

In a letter to Stimson the President said that "command of the air by the democracies must and can be achieved" and that "the democratic superiority in the air" must be "made absolute."

Strain on U. S. Plants.

The tremendous increase in the production of heavy bombers required to wrest air supremacy from the Nazis will strain America's production effort and necessitate an enormous expansion of plant facilities and the application of rationing and priorities to materials entering into the construction of these gigantic aircraft.

The President's action was interpreted as the answer of the British and American governments to Hitler's boast in his speech yesterday that Germany will be even stronger in the air next year and the year thereafter than today.

The heavy bombing planes Mr. Roosevelt calls upon industry to turn out in vast number are required solely for offensive purposes. They will be employed in the effort to bomb Germany into submission.

Text of Letter to War Chief.

The President's letter to Secretary Stimson follows:

"My Dear Mr. Secretary:

"The effective defense of this country and the vital defense of other democratic nations requires that there be a substantial increase in heavy bomber production. To this end, will you take whatever action is needed, including the procurement of aircraft, to obtain substantially the production rate which I am indicating to you in a private memorandum?

"I am advising the Office of Produciton Management to take the necessary steps to provide appropriate priority ratings applicable to this increased bomber program. Will you, in coöperation with the secretary of the navy and the Office of Production Management, work out the proper procedure to accomplish this very important task with all possible speed?

"I am fully aware of the fact that increasing the number of our heavy bombers will mean a great strain upon our production effort. It will mean a large expansion of plant facilities and the utilization of existing factories not now engaged in making munitions. But command of the air by the democracies must and can be achieved. Every month the democracies are gaining in the relative strength of the air forces. We must see to it that the process is hastened and that the democratic superiority in the air be made absolute."

Grave Production Problem.

The undertaking ordered by the President is staggering in proportions. It will be many months, under the most favorable circumstances, before the heavy bombers can be rolled from the assembly lines in large numbers.

Hitherto the President never had envisaged an aircraft production program calling for so large a proportion of the heavy bombers. Production even of the comparatively smaller number already provided for has not yet reached quantity stage because of the tremendous job of tooling involved and other problems of manufacturing the flying fortress type.

The entire aircraft production pro gram has been lagging for months. The OPM announced today that 1,427 planes were turned out in April, of which all but 78 were for military use. This was an increase of 211 over March, when production was 1,216 planes. A large proportion of the planes produced each month is for training aviators. Information on the types of planes was withheld.

Construction of the new heavy bombers will be financed from the 7 billion dollar appropriation of the aid to Britain legislation. Hitherto 44,600 planes have been ordered from the aircraft industry, including 16,500 for the army, 8,500 for the navy, and 16,000 fighters and 3,600 bombers for Great Britain.

After passage of the lend-lease bill, however, it was stated that the total number of planes to be turned out by American factories had been stepped up to 80,000. The indefinite number of heavy bombers called for by the President is in addition to the 80,000.

About 7,000 military planes have been produced by American factories since July, 1940. Col. John H. Jouett, president of the Aeronautic Chamber of Commerce of America, stated last week that the rate of American production is now nearing 1,500 planes a month, which is the British rate and also the German, according to his figures. He said that 18,000 planes would be produced in the United States this year and 30,000 next year on the basis of the existing program, which now is being vastly expanded by the President's demand for heavy bombers.

NEW ZEALANDER NAMED WAR CHIEF ON ISLE OF CRETE

CANEA, Crete, May 5 (AP).—Maj. Gen. B. C. Freyburg, commander in chief of the New Zealand expeditionary force, has been appointed commander in chief of allied forces on the island of Crete. The appointment was disclosed in an order of the day by Emmanuel Tsouderous, Greek prime minister and minister of war.

Maj. Gen. B. C. Freyburg.

It was also disclosed that six generals had been dismissed from the Greek army "for concluding an armistice without the permission of their king and government."

Canea has been the headquarters of King George II. of Greece and his ministers since the German advance on Athens forced them to flee their mainland capital to avoid falling into Nazi hands. The government is sworn to carry on resistance from Crete.

A British announcement said that four German warplanes have been shot down in sky battles over Crete and others by antiaircraft fire, indicating that the island may be the target of intensive Nazi attacks.

WILL F. D. R. KEEP PLEDGE TO U. S. OR EUROPE?—BROOKS

Fateful Decision Is Near, Senator Warns.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 5 [Special]. —An overflow crowd at the Shrine auditorium tonight roared approval as Senator Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] summed up the war versus peace situation in this question: "To whom shall the President keep his promises—to the people of America or to the people of foreign nations?"

This was the question around which Brooks wove a fervent plea for citizens to consider the destiny of this country. He recalled the President's solemn pledges to keep the nation out of the European maelstrom and insisted that the pledges be kept.

Brooks left Washington this afternoon and returned after the meeting, using planes in order not to miss any important roll calls in the capitol. The Fort Wayne chapter of the America First committee was thus enabled to stage its largest meeting. Every one of the 2,200 seats was filled and there were listeners outside.

Fate or Destiny?

"America has a decision to make soon," said Brooks, "whether it is going on to meet its fate or its destiny. Its fate would be that planned by despondent internationalists. Its destiny is to follow the road which brought us from wilderness to the greatest, richest, happiest, most generous nation in the world.

"Right now we have here, in America, the fruitage of the hope of ages, with Germans and Jews, Italians and British, Greeks and Poles, all living peacefully and harmoniously. There are still many shortcomings—but look how far we've come in so short a time."

In contrast he pictured the hatreds carried in European hearts from generation to generation. This country tried to stop that, and found the job could not be done from over here, Brooks said.

"In 1917 we were rich and great, and the President said we should go back to the old countries in a 'war to end war,' the senator recalled. "We gave them everything we had to answer that ringing challenge. The result is before our eyes."

Pledges of President.

Roosevelt's pledges to the fathers and mothers of America—not to send their boys to fight in foreign wars, not to convoy munitions, not to intervene in European conflicts—were reiterated by Brooks, who stated the President "knew what his words meant and he knew they were believed. Now let him live up to them."

After the election Roosevelt shocked this country with his talk of making America the "arsenal of Democracy," Brooks said.

"Who gave him authority for that?" Brooks said. "Not the people. These things were not discussed when he was asking for another term.

"Lease-lend bill—those are soft words unlike the guns, bullets, tanks and airplanes they mean.

"Now they say, because they voted to provide those armaments, there must be convoys.

"Write to the President."

"But when we asked them about convoys before the bill was passed they gave assurance there would be no convoys. The President assured us of that three times, and again the people believed him.

"Now what we want to know is, will the President keep his promises to the American people or to the people of other countries? Write a letter to the President, out of your heart, telling him what you want him to do."

PRESIDENT LEADS U. S. TO FASCISM, WHEELER WARNS

F. D. R. Advisers Bent on War, He Charges.

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 5.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], speaking here tonight before an enthusiastic audience of nearly 4,000 University of Michigan students in Hill auditorium, charged that Fascism is on the march in America and added that "one man, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, is responsible more than any other."

Wheeler said the President, like Hitler, denounces those who disagree with him and calls his opponents "copperhead." Then the senator urged that the United States build an impregnable defense and save democracy by staying out of the European war.

Likens Them to Hitler.

The new Presidential advisers, Wheeler said, preach democracy and practice the technique of the German Fuehrer. He charged that some of these advisers would, like Hitler, use forced labor, install concentration camps, urge wire tapping by a gestapo, and conscript the girls of America to provide dancing partners for the army.

"They are for the most part men who have opposed the Roosevelt domestic policy," Wheeler said. "They opposed aid for drought stricken farmers, WPA appropriations for unemployed workers. They opposed a program to build schools and hospitals and homes. They fought social security, holding company and antitrust bills, and legislation designed to curb Wall street speculation.

"The President does not call them high priced lobbyists, Fascists, and economic royalists if they subscribe to intervention in a foreign war. If they urge a foreign policy to plow under American boys in Asia, Africa, and Australia, they are great liberals and patriots à la Wendell Willkie.

"And Secretary of Navy Col. Knox and Secretary of War Stimson, they are for war now so they are progressives. These new Presidential advisers are largely men who are willing to send American boys to foreign battlefields. They are willing to sacrifice American lives to save the dictators of Poland, Greece, and Hungary. They demand, at all costs, that we preserve the way of life in China and in India where hundreds of millions of people live in abject poverty and virtual slavery."

Before he spoke Senator Wheeler was told that three surveys of student opinion at the university showed the campus population from 65 per cent to 80 per cent against entering the war, even if it appears Germany is defeating England.

"It will be upon the youth of America that the cost of war bears most heavily," Wheeler said. "It will be you who will march in long lines. It will be you whose bodies will dangle from barbed wire in Europe, Africa, or Asia. It will be over you that a new crop of white crosses will arise. . . . It will not be feeble and decrepit senators, too old to fight, who hobble into congressional chambers and loudly demand war."

Declares Youth Must Pay.

The senator declared that it will be the youth of America and their unborn children who will pay the bill if the United States is taken to war. He added that it will be the youth of today who will live under the dictatorship which will be visited on this country if the nation permits emotion to overcome reason.

Wheeler told the students that they can, by intelligent work and by the exercise of the right of petition, do much to influence those with the power to take them into war. He said that the activities of war mongers could not be effective against aroused sentiment.

Robert Vietig, chairman of the Detroit America First committee, reported tonight that a spontaneous movement among Detroit working men has brought from 3,500 to 5,000 new members into his organization.

MINORITY SPONSORS DRIVE TO PUT U. S. IN WAR, NYE DECLARES

New York, May 5 (AP).—Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] said today the United States has a 50-50 chance of staying out of war if the people continued to protest involvement. He charged that a small minority is sponsoring the present "preposterous" program to bring this country into war.

Addressing New York university's Progressive Students league, Nye attacked both President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie for their stand on the involvement question.

Referring to Willkie's pleas for aid to Britain, Nye said that his actions "since he returned from a hasty visit to the pubs of London" made him suspect there was "a conspiracy" at last fall's nomination "to deny the people a chance to express themselves on the question of war."

Warns Europe Will Fall.

Freeport, N. Y., May 5 [Special].—Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] told 1,500 persons at an America First committee rally here tonight that the United States must "conserve its resources" so that when Europe "falls exhausted, as it surely must, we can offer a helping hand."

Peru (Ill.) Priest Is Killed When His Car Overturns

Ottawa, Ill., May 5 [Special].—The Rev. L. A. Grzybowski, 29 years old, assistant pastor of St. Valentine's Catholic church in Peru, Ill., was killed tonight when his automobile overturned on U. S. highway 6 just west of Ottawa. He was alone in the car. Police said the Rev. Grzybowski apparently lost control of the car when it skidded in a fog.

75 Canadian Soldiers Lost in Ship Sinking

OTTAWA, Ont., May 5 (AP).—Naval Minister MacDonald announced late today that 75 military personnel had been lost in the sinking of a ship. He told the house of commons the next-of-kin of the men lost had been informed and also next-of-kin of those who were saved.

"I can only add my own great personal regret at this loss and I am sure it is shared by every member of this house," he said.

If you were to ask the opinion of the leading conductors and musicians of our day about the one radio they prefer—their choice would be overwhelmingly for a Scott.

Deems Taylor says of his Scott that amazingly it has no tone of its own, but the tone of each instrument it reproduces. Richard Crooks says, "The overtones and harmonies of voice and instrument are approaching a third dimensional value that I have never heard in any other instrument." If you will listen to a Scott for a revealing half hour, you will know why the world of music has acclaimed it.

The Scott is not mass-produced, but painstakingly built with hand craftsmanship. It is guaranteed, not for a few weeks or months, but for 5 YEARS. SENATOR PEPPER LOOSES BLAST AT AMERICA FIRST Hears Group Indirectly Is Aided by Bund.

Washington, D. C., May 5 [Special].—Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] charged tonight that he had heard reports that the America First committee had indirectly received contributions from the German bund. America First has been denied the right to hold public meetings at Miami, in Senator Pepper's home state. Authorities in Miami have charged that America First is subversive. Discussing these charges Pepper said:

"The time is coming sooner than many people think when these groups will have to declare themselves for or against us. When that time comes," he added, "we shall have to purge ourselves of these opposition elements."

Won't Accept Challenge.

The pro-war senator made these remarks in announcing that he would not accept a challenge from former Gov. Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin, to debate the war question at an America First rally in Miami, Fla., on May 17. Senator Pepper also said that he had just learned of Miami's refusal to permit the committee to hold a meeting last week. He personally would not ban the committee's meetings, he said.

Senator Pepper's charge of bund money going to the committee was made in response to a question as to whether he considered the committee subversive. If the reports are true, he added, "it would seem strangely suspicious and a matter of concern to congress."

CITIZENS PROTEST GAG

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., May 5—Page Hufty, chairman of the Florida state chapter of the America First committee, today appealed to the people of Miami to uphold freedom of speech and the standard of fair play by repudiating suppressive and censorship actions of the city commissioners against the committee's activities.

Circuit Judge Worth W. Trammell this morning dissolved the state charter he had issued to the Miami America First chapter two months ago. He did this on the technical ground that the charter was void because it provided for only three directors, whereas Florida law requires five directors in a nonprofit organization such as the America First committee.

Revocation of the America First charter did not, however, affect the franchise granted for a chapter by the Chicago headquarters, and Hufty immediately took over the work of reorganizing and increasing America First membership here.

Protests Are Published.

Growing resentment against the commissioners' arbitrary actions was seen today in letters received by the Miami Herald and printed on its front page. The writers pleaded for every effort to keep this country out of Europe's war, such as the efforts being made thruout the nation by the America First committee.

City and county authorities last week made Miami the first place in the country to deny constitutional rights to the America First group. On Friday these authorities prevented the Miami chapter of the committee from holding an antiwar rally in the Dade county courthouse or in Bay Front park, altho both locations are public property.

Saturday the city commissioners clamped on a virtual censorship by refusing to act on an America First request for use of the park where former Gov. Philip La Follette of Wisconsin is scheduled to speak on May 17. The commissioners withheld action pending their approval of the text of La Follette's address. He has declared he will talk here—"in a cow pasture" if necessary.

Blot on City's Reputation.

"Freedom of speech, an integral part of our country's heritage, is lost when the use of public property is denied to La Follette and censorship is invoked to prevent delivery of a patriotic address," Hufty said. "Such action is a blot on Miami's reputation and a threat to democracy.

"A charge has been made that the America First committee is a subversive organization because its members are opposed to the interventionist tactics of the New Deal administration. Those who would lead an unwilling people into war are the ones who could be called subversive.

"I call on the people of Miami to voice their feelings against the action of the authorities. I call on them to join the ranks of America First. Otherwise I will have to believe they condone this restriction upon freedom of speech."

H. Bond Bliss, Miami Herald staff writer, in his front page column, said that polls show a large majority of the people still opposed to our active participation in the war and that the same proportion holds in the letters he has been receiving.

"No foreign power, no victory, no defeat of England, no Hitler can change our way of life, our great United States, if we are alert to the real dangers at home," read one letter, signed "Just One of the Common Herd."

"We little people who realize and see the evils of the day are mere puppets, forced to dance as the politicians pull their strings."

Capt. T. B. McCoun, former chairman of the Miami chapter of the America First committee, today obtained a new charter for an organization to be known as "Society of Americans," with purposes similar to the America First committee.

La Follette, former governor of Wisconsin and a leader in the effort to keep the United States out of war, will be the principal speaker Thursday night at an America First rally in Hinsdale High school gymnasium. La Follette will discuss "War or Peace." State Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill [R., Downers Grove] also will speak. Howard Swann, University of Chicago physiologist, will preside.

The meeting will start at 8 p. m. Seats for 1,000 persons will be available. Lawrence Anderson, secretary of the Hinsdale chapter of the America First committee, said there would be standing room for 1,000 more persons.

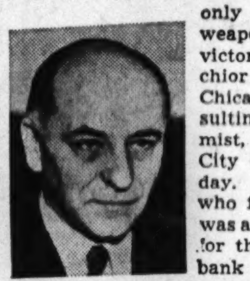
'BLITZ' BLOCKADE OF BRITAIN HELD ONLY NAZI HOPE

A brief but effective blockade of England appears to be Germany's only possible weapon for a victory, Dr. Melchior Palyi of Chicago, a consulting economist, told the City club yesterday. Dr. Palyi, who formerly was an economist for the Deutsche bank in Berlin, spoke at a luncheon meeting in the La Salle hotel.



Dr. Palyi.

He said he did not believe it would be possible for the Germans to invade the British Isles and that the Nazis' remaining two roads—breaking up the British empire in the east or winning thru a long blockade—also are unlikely to succeed.

Dr. Palyi said a long blockade of Britain might effect defeat of the English were it not that the longer the war lasts the greater is the extent to which America and the dominions are likely to lend material aid.

Warns Canadians Oppose Big Non-War Expenditures

OTTAWA, Ont., May 5 [Special].—Opening parliamentary debate on the new budget, the Conservative leader R. B. Hanson, today said he was confident the Canadian people would accept the sacrifices involved, but warned the government there is much dissatisfaction with the way money is being spent on the nonwar expenditures. These expenditures, the opposition leader said, must be cut to the bone. Unless there is retrenchment, there will be resentment against the increased taxes, he said.

DARLAN TIGHTENS FRANCE'S GRIP ON CITIES' POLICE

Hurries to Paris for New Parley with Nazi.

VICHY, France, May 5 (AP).—Admiral Jean Darlan, vice premier, today ordered the centralization of all police power in a decree theoretically affecting occupied and unoccupied France. The order was issued just before he left hurriedly by special train for further conferences in Paris with Otto Abetz, German ambassador there.

Almost at the moment Darlan's police decree was announced reports reached here from Paris that Darlan and Pierre Laval, deposed vice premier and leader of a move for closer relations between France and Germany, were arguing over the post of interior minister.

The decree will make police in all cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants directly responsible to the Vichy government's interior minister instead of to their municipalities.

Reins in Darlan's Hands.

Darlan holds the portfolio of interior minister and some Vichy diplomatic circles say one of Germany's demands is for Laval to take over that ministry. Darlan is said to be reluctant to see that happen.

Darlan left here for Paris less than 24 hours after returning from the old capital for conferences with Marshal Philippe Petain on the results of talks with Abetz.

Supply Minister Jean Archard reported France's meat prospects for May and June were "tragic." The country lost 25 per cent of its live stock during the winter, he said, and is faced by an increasing lack of fodder. He put the meat supply at 800,000 tons, against a normal consumption of 1,800,000 tons.

U. S. Flour at Marseilles.

MARSEILLES, France, May 5 (AP).—The last of a shipment of 13,500 tons of United States flour has arrived here on the freighter Ile de Re. It will permit free distribution of bread on three Sundays "within the limits of rationing." The first is expected on May 25, Mother's day.

U. S. ENVOY SEEKS INTERVIEW WITH SPANISH CHIEFS

MADRID, Spain, May 5.—Alexander W. Weddell, United States ambassador to Spain, has requested an interview to inform the government of the care with which Spain's foreign policy is being followed in the United States, it was learned today. Thus far the interview has not been arranged.

During the last month, rumors have circulated that some warlike act was imminent in Spain, but Madrid is not quite so jittery as Lisbon, Portugal.

Meanwhile, the British are continuing their program of trade treaty appeasement. A member of the British embassy, who left today for home on leave, said confidently he would be back in October. However, the last children belonging to the American embassy's families also left today.

BRITISH BREAK UP AXIS PLANS FOR NEW TOBRUK PUSH

Blast Troops and Trucks Outside Outer Line.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 5 (AP).—Besieged Britons have thrown up new works opposite axis troops occupying the southwest fringe of Tobruk's outer defenses to reëstablish their lines, and shattered German-Italian preparations for a fresh assault on the Libyan port, British sources said tonight.

The British erected their new barricades yesterday after their land and air forces had blasted German and Italian troops and transports moving up for an attempt to smash thru Tobruk's perimeter of defenses.

Military circles said the Germans and Italians had occupied only about 2,000 yards of the original outer defense ring and that to a slight depth.

Inflict Heavy Casualties.

Heavy casualties were inflicted on axis forces outside Tobruk during the counterattack, the middle east command's communique reported. While this operation was carried out, far ranging British bombers attacked axis transport and mechanized units in the Maraua area on the Cyrenaican plateau to the west.

A number of vehicles and tanks were declared damaged, and casualties were said to have been inflicted on troops destined to reinforce the Tobruk-Sollum spearheads of the axis.

Fires and explosions also were reported to have followed British air attacks on the Benina airdrome, near axis occupied Bengazi, and on the nearby Derna airdrome. Four large fires also were caused at a military headquarters southeast of Tobruk.

Engage Foe at Sollum.

British mechanized forces were said to have successfully engaged several axis detachments in the area of Sollum, Egypt, where the axis thrust toward the Suez has been stalled for several weeks.

While the British reported continued progress against isolated Italian resistance in Ethiopia, former Emperor Haile Selassie was declared en route on a triumphal return to his country's capital, Addis Ababa.

The Fascist post at Amba Alaji, 280 miles northeast of Addis Ababa, is under steady pressure of the British and a large number of Italians were reported to have surrendered. Nearly 30,000 Italians were believed holding out at Amba Alaji.

ANNUAL PULITZER EDITORIAL PRIZE WON BY N. Y. NEWS

New York, May 5 [Special].—A Pulitzer prize of $500 was awarded today to Reuben Maury of the New York Daily News for the best editorial writing during 1940. To the St. Louis Post-Dispatch went a citation for meritorious service for the newspaper's campaign against the smoke nuisance in St. Louis.

Robert E. Sherwood's play "There Shall Be No Night" won $1,000 for the best drama of the year. Sherwood also won the drama award in 1936 and 1939.

Westbrook Pegler, newspaper columnist, received $1,000 for a distinguished example of newspaper reporting in his exposure of the scandals in organized labor which ultimately sent George Scalise, head of the New York Building Service Employés union, to prison.

For the first time in 20 years the Pulitzer prize judges failed to award a $1,000 prize for the best novel. They also omitted awards for distinguished foreign and Washington correspondence.

MEXICO CITY, May 5 (AP).—Sixty Mexican writers and artists, including Diego Rivera, sent an appeal "in the name of civilization" to the Vichy government today asking for the release of Pablo Picasso, noted Spanish artist who was interned after fleeing Spain during the civil war. The message expressed fear Picasso would be turned over to the Franco government.

LONDON, May 6—Tuesday—(AP).—The government acknowledged today that "much damage" was done by German air raiders which concentrated last night on Clydeside in southwestern Scotland, important shipbuildin area around Glasgow.

British bombers were reported to have struck back with assaults on western Germany.

Seven of the German night raiders, which also caused "considerable damage" in the fifth consecutive night's attack on the Liverpool area, were shot down.

The Nazi attacks were described officially as being on "a large scale," ranging over many parts of England and extending for the second successive night to Belfast, Northern Ireland.

[The German high command said the Vickers-Armstrong plant at Belfast, maker of fine British planes, was fired.]

The air ministry reported British bombers in their fifteenth raid scored direct hits with armor piercing bombs on the Scharnhorst and the Gneisenau, 26,000 ton German battleships, at Brest, France, on Sunday night.

Dublin, Ireland, reported an unidentified plane dropped bombs at Carlhage Hill, County Donegal, yesterday morning, shattering windows.

CALLES RETURNS TO MEXICO AFTER FIVE YEAR EXILE

MONTERREY, Mexico, May 5 (AP).—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, former president and last of the important political exiles, returned to Mexico today from San Diego, Cal., after five years in the United States. He went to the isolated ranch of his son, Plutarco, near here.

Gen. Calles intimated that his bitterness toward the recently retired president, Lazaro Cardenas, had not died out and said he might have something to say shortly of keen interest to Mexicans.

Cardenas had Calles and three of his followers flown from Mexico in 1936, charging them with meddling in government affairs. Calles said his fight on "communistic tendencies" of the Cardenas régime was responsible.

Gen. José Maria Tapia, who also was exiled by Cardenas, returned with Calles.

LONDON RATIONS CHEESE BUT MANY DON'T GET ANY

LONDON, May 5.—Altho only three persons out of five registered for the monthly one-quarter pound ration of cheese, grocers were unable to supply all customers today—the first day of the rationing. The food ministry, however, promised that registered customers would be able to obtain the full cheese ration before the end of the month.

English tomatoes, scarce because of the late season, were bringing from 80 cents to $1.20 a pound today. Some shops charged $2.10 a pound.

JUGO-SLAV SHIPS IN U. S. BOARDED BY COAST GUARD

Report Step Is to Learn Loyalty of Crews.

New York, May 5 (AP).—Coast guardsmen today boarded seven Jugo-Slav ships in various United States ports and were reported "watching closely" or "inspecting" at least four others. Seventeen Jugo-Slav ships were said to be in American ports.

Government officials were reluctant to comment on the action. A coast guard spokesman here said it was taken at the direction of the secretary of the treasury.

Loyalty Question Raised.

In Washington, it was understood the boardings were made to determine whether the officers and crews were loyal to their King Peter—a friend of Britain—or to the new government set up by Germany after invading Jugo-Slavia.

It was said in the capital that if the men were found loyal to the king no further action against the vessels or the men would be taken.

British Coöperation Claimed.

Frano Petrinovic, Jugo-Slav ship owner and agent for several Jugo-Slav vessels, said in New York the entire Jugo-Slav merchant marine, including 40 to 50 ships in ports thruout the world, has been coöperating with the British ministry of shipping.

Officials asserted that the boardings were not to be confused with the United States' seizure of 69 axis and Danish ships on March 30. The boardings were described as "a precautionary measure."

"When we receive certain rumors we take certain action," a coast guard spokesman said.

Italian Seamen Convicted.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 5 (AP).—All 39 seamen taken off the Italian freighter Ircania when the vessel was seized here by the United States coast guard March 30 were convicted of sabotage today by a federal court jury. Judge Louie W. Strum said he would sentence them and the 21 members of the crew of the Confidenza, another Italian ship disabled while at anchor here, after motions by defense counsel are heard Friday. The Confidenza seamen were convicted last week.

Ask $100,000

Fred Bowker and his wife, Lorraine.

After an hour's deliberation a jury returned a sealed verdict last night in the $100,000 damage suit of Fred Bowker, Oak Park's love picket, against his wife's parents and two doctors in the court of Superior Judge John F. Haas.

Bowker, 22 years old, 746 South Elmwood avenue, Oak Park, is an inventor. He married Lorraine Landon, 17, in July, 1939, and staged a sitdown strike in front of her home at 514 South Highland avenue in the suburb, when her parents isolated her. In November, 1939, the couple were reunited.

During that period, Bowker charged in the present suit, the parents, Arthur Landon, cartage company official, and his wife, Florence, slandered him and forced Lorraine to submit to an illegal operation. The doctors allegedly performed the operation.

The defendants denied Bowker's charges.

ANSWERS DRAFT CHARGE WITH HIS BIBLE IN HIS HAND

Morris B. Hart, 27 years old, owner of a paint store at 3442 Montrose avenue, appeared before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday carrying a Bible and a prayer book and pleaded not guilty of violating the selective service act by refusing to appear before his draft board for a physical examination.

Hart had sent letters to other members of his local board urging them to follow the example of "the first conscientious objector, whose birthday we celebrate Dec. 25," according to John H. Kiely, assistant United States district attorney. Deputy United States marshals who went to his paint store to arrest him said that before leaving he painted a sign, which he put in the window, stating that his draft board had been unfair to him in refusing to classify him as a conscientious objector. Kiely said Hart couldn't legally be classified as a conscientious objector until he had his physical examination and it was determined that he belonged in class 1A. Hart was arrested for failure to take the physical examination, Kiely said, and not for his religious beliefs.

Commissioner Walker set May 14 for a hearing.

HOUSE AROUSED BY CRY: WE'RE GOING TO WAR!

Cox Declares U. S. Will Convoy Right Away.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Representative Cox.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—The disconcerting candor of a war-minded southern Democrat caused embarrassment to administration leaders and provoked a minor uproar in the house today.

The house had begun consideration of the bill authorizing President Roosevelt to seize 85 German, Italian, Danish, and French ships in American ports. The bill was suggested by Mr. Roosevelt April 10, and it was widely reported and not specifically denied that the President would turn the ships over to Great Britain.

Such a transfer would be a clear act of war, opponents of the bill asserted, and an invitation to the axis powers to declare war on the United States. Advocates of the bill argued that the foreign flag ships are needed to supply shipping tonnage for this country. There is nothing in the bill, they noted, mentioning Britain.

Tactics Arouse Cox's Anger.

These evasive tactics aroused the ire of Representative Eugene E. Cox [D., Ga.], frequent opponent of the President on the domestic program but an eager supporter of the administration's foreign policy. He strode to the well of the house and declaimed:

"I have had enough of this denunciation of Hitler and this talk about aid to Britain without doing anything about it. The lend-lease bill was not a peace measure. It was a war measure. It was an open declaration to the world that we had entered upon the road that led to war.

"This bill carries us even farther on that road. Maybe it is the announcement that we have at last arrived!

"We're Going to Convoy."

"President Roosevelt has been applauded for his indecision in ordering convoys for British supply ships. I think we have reached the point where we should cease toying and playing with the people. It is hard to believe that any one in this country can still doubt that we are getting into this war.

"I am accused of favoring war. I'm only following the President. He wants this bill and I'm going along with him.

"As to convoys—we voted billions for Great Britain. We can't fulfill our promises to aid Great Britain without convoys. We can't retreat.

"Of course we're going to convoy and we're going to convoy right away!"

There were many red faces among the supporters of the bill, but Cox's forthright declaration was applauded by a good many among those present. Representative John D. Dingell [D., Mich.] was inspired to shout:

"We're out to beat Hitler at all costs!"

Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.,] of the house naval affairs committee also was moved to frankness. He said he was in favor of convoying American arms shipments to Britain with the United States navy "right now."

And, exhilarated by the bellicose utterances of his colleagues, Representative Clyde T. Ellis [D., Ark.] directed an unexpected attack upon Japan.

"I give Japan one week to withdraw from the axis!" he bellowed. "If it doesn't, I move we start to polish Japan off the face of the earth!"

Fish Denounces Measure.

Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], arguing against the bill, said it is the British navy's responsibility to transport the billions of dollars' worth of goods donated by the United States under the 7 billion dollar British war aid measure.

"If we were in the war," Fish said, "we would have the right to seize the German and Italian ships in our ports and use them to our best advantage. However, we have not declared war and we have no right to requisition these ships and turn them over to an enemy nation. I do not care a continental what Hitler or Mussolini thinks about it or whether it arouses their anger or enmity. I am thinking about what is best for America.

"I cannot imagine anything that smacks more of force, violence, and gangster methods after the Hitler pattern than the proposal to transfer German and Italian merchant ships to the British. This would constitute an act of war and the grossest breach of international law in history."

Debate on the bill will be completed tomorrow. The main fight before the final roll call will center on an amendment, sponsored by Representative Francis D. Culkin [R., N. Y.], which would prevent the transfer of the seized ships to any belligerent.

NATION SEES WAY THRU IN SEA WAR, BRITONS ARE TOLD

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 5.—Britain can now "see her way thru" the battle of the Atlantic, Ronald Cross, former minister of shipping, told a meeting of the Mercantile Marine Service association in Liverpool today. The scale of American assistance, he explained, has made this possible.

[Cross became high commissioner to Australia when Britain merged the ministries of shipping and transport on May 2.]

Cross admitted anxiety about repairs and the turnaround of ships in British ports. There is anxiety also "as to the punctual delivery on new ships and the ships we are getting from America," he declared, "but I can say with confidence that we can now see our way thru on a calculating basis. It was not possible a few months ago, before we knew the scale of American assistance, but it is possible now."

GERMANY HINTS HITLER EYES U. S. AS POSSIBLE FOE

Sees Such Calculation in Reference to 1942.

BERLIN, May 5 (AP).—Adolph Hitler's hint in his reichstag address Sunday that the war might run into 1942 probably was based on "the calculated effects of American intervention," the commentary Dienst Aus Deutschland said tonight.

Earlier, other authorized spokesmen saw in Hitler's mention of arms for "next year" only an answer to "English and American propaganda" that England had but to hold out this year to win the war.

The commentary, which has close foreign office connections, added, however, that this prolongation of the war could not affect the final outcome of a German victory.

See More Enemies.

The Fuerher's emphasis on Germany's determination to hold the lead in "history's greatest armament race" also induced many German leaders to consider the prospect of a prolonged conflict with more enemies.

The authoritative Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung referred to a statement attributed to American generals and admirals that German armament production was at its maximum while the United States is a "nation on wheels."

"But one cannot swim over the ocean on wheels," the newspaper observed, and insisted that not machines but the task of delivering American aid to Britain was the crux of the situation.

Demand More Sacrifices.

Dienst Aus Deutschland said that Hitler's statement on American production, accepted as German policy for an indefinite period, meant more women would have to work in vital war industries.

"Announcement of the mobilization of more labor power out of the ranks of women up to now not fully engaged is a large sacrifice demanded by the German people," the commentary said. "But no one will doubt that the armament potential will be increased with methods of the well known German thoroness."

Benton Harbor, Mich., May 5 [Special].—A blonde from South Haven was elected queen of southwestern Michigan's 19th annual Blossom festival tonight. She is Miss Jean Muske, 21 years old, a secretary, whose ambition is to be a model. Miss Muske is 5 feet 7 inches tall.

In all, 19 girls, representing as many cities and towns in the area, competed for the title. The committee of three judges ran thru nine ballots before agreeing on the winner. Miss Mary Caroline Brakeman, 18, a brunette from Kalamazoo, was second, and Miss Frances Snow, 19, a blonde from Battle Creek, third. They automatically became the queen's court of honor.

Miss Muske as queen received a 1941 model five passenger automobile and a wrist watch. The 18 other girls also received wrist watches. The contest was held in the Liberty theater auditorium before a crowd of 1,200.

Maj. George Moody Killed Testing New Training Plane

Wichita, Kas., May 5 (AP).—A twin-motored experimental training plane crashed and burned today, killing Maj. George P. Moody, army test pilot from Maxwell Field, Ala. Witnesses said the plane went into a side-slip about 100 feet up after the take-off, plummeted to earth and burst into flame. Maj. Moody, 32, came here Tuesday on temporary assignment to Beech Aircraft company for testing work.

GRANDDAUGHTER OF LOUIS SWIFT GRANTED DIVORCE

Phoenix, Ariz., May 5 [Special].—Mrs. Idamay Minotto Sanborn, a granddaughter of the late Louis F. Swift Sr., son of the founder of the packing firm, was granted a divorce here today from Lester Sanborn.

Superior Judge Arthur T. La Prade upheld Mrs. Sanborn's charge that her husband was "guilty of excesses and cruel treatment." Sanborn did not contest the action.

Mrs. Sanborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Minotto, was granted the right to resume her maiden name. Her father, formerly an Italian count, is an Arizona state senator. The couple was married May 20, 1939, at Mission ranch, the Minotto estate near here. Sanborn, a former Californian, has resided in Phoenix since then.

SEN. VANDENBERG ASKS REVISION OF DRAFT LAW

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] today proposed that a special five-man senate committee be created to study the operation of the draft act and recommend amendments within 60 days.

"There is a variety of rules regarding married men and essential industrial workers," he told reporters. "Congress passed the draft law and congress should rewrite it.

"There have been a thousand complaints about the act. Even government departments are complaining."

Woman Leaps Into River; Rescued by Bridge Men

Robert O'Connor and Edward Burns, bridge tenders at the Madison street bridge over the Chicago river, last night rescued a woman who leaped or fell from the bridge. They pulled the woman from the water with a hooked pole about 30 feet long. Tentatively identified as Mrs. Anna Stessl, about 45 years old, of 2105 Monroe street, she was taken to County hospital in serious condition due to exposure. Her purse and a box of shoe strings were found on the bridge.

STREET CAR COLLIDES WITH TRUCK; SPILLS 1,500 GALS. GASOLINE

Five pieces of fire equipment and policemen from the Maxwell street and Marquette stations last night were sent to 14th street and Ashland avenue, where 1,500 gallons of gasoline spilled on the street after a street car-truck crash. Firemen washed the street to eliminate the fire hazard, while traffic on Ashland avenue was held up for 45 minutes and police kept spectators at a distance.

The truck, a tractor and double trailer, carrying 3,600 gallons of gasoline, was driven by George Hoekstra, 23 years old, of 919 Summer street, Hammond, Ind. The street car motorman was Stanley Kroll, 52, of 2704 Komensky avenue. Two of the 15 passengers on the street car, Miss Libby Feinstein, 28, of 1833 South Harding avenue, and Harry Cutler, 59, of 1834 South Millard avenue, were injured slightly.

Attendants at the county hospital last night found $6,470 in cash and securities in the pockets of an aged man who was struck and fatally injured by an automobile at Roosevelt road and Loomis street earlier in the day. The victim was believed to have been Samuel Sissor, about 70 years old, a teacher of Hebrew in the neighborhood where the accident occurred. The motorist was George J. Royal, 45, of 163 East Walton street.

In the victim's pockets were $6,150 in United States savings bonds, $320 in cash, and two bank books, all wrapped in brown paper. They were placed in a safe at the hospital while police sought relatives.

U. S. DENIES PLEA TO DISMISS CASE AGAINST BRIDGES

Defense Then Begins to Present Evidence.

San Francisco, Cal., May 5 [Special].—Deportation proceedings against Harry Bridges, alien CIO director for California, were resumed today after a week's recess to permit his counsel to prepare a defense. At the outset, Examiner Charles B. Sears denied a motion for dismissal. Later he rejected a motion charging discrimination against Bridges and ordered the hearing to proceed.

Charles Dullea.

Bridges is being examined for deportation for the second time in two years. The deportation charge is based on his alleged affiliation with the communist party, an organization which advocates overthrow of the government by force.

At the first Bridges hearing in 1939, Examiner James M. Landis, dean of Harvard law school, ruled Bridges could not be deported because labor department attorneys had not proved he then was a member of the communist party.

Hearing Ordered by Jackson.

The current hearing is being conducted by the department of justice, to which the bureau of immigration had been transferred from the labor department. Attorney General Robert H. Jackson ordered the hearing after the federal bureau of investigation reported Bridges still is affiliated with the communist party.

Mrs. Carol King of New York, Bridges' chief counsel, made the dismissal motion today. Then she moved that the examiner find Bridges was being made the object of discrimination because the government had not tried to deport any other alien for membership in the Industrial Workers of the World or the Marine Workers' Industrial union.

The government contends affiliation with either or both in the past is sufficient cause to send Bridges back to his native Australia.

Police Chief Testifies.

After several exchanges between Mrs. King and Albert Del Guercio, chief government counsel, the defense called Charles Dullea, police chief of San Francisco, to attack the credibility of government witnesses who had linked Bridges with the communists.

The first witness attacked was Sam Diner, a former Red. Dullea said he had been arrested four times, but never tried before a circuit court. Examiner Sears said the police record was not impressive to him.

Then Mrs. King charged Bridges was being tried on the same charges as in 1939 and consequently was placed in double jeopardy. After she started to read excerpts from the Landis hearing, Sears admitted the transcript into the record and announced he was without power to do anything except hear the case.

HOUSE ARMS QUIZ TO BARE UNIONS' INNER WORKINGS

Questionnaires Seek Full Financial Accounting.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—The hitherto untold story of the operations of labor unions in the United States—covering many phases which have been closely guarded by officials—will be disclosed by the house naval affairs committee, it was learned today.

The committee, authorized by the house recently to investigate all naval arms contracts and the reasons for delays in their fulfillment, has set a May 15 deadline for replies to questionnaires it sent last week to all unions whose members are employed on naval arms orders. Contracts awarded to more than 10,000 contractors and subcontractors are involved.

Full Accounting Sought.

For the first time in congressional history, unions will be required to reveal in detail their financial assets and liabilities as of Oct. 1, 1939, when the arms production effort began, and as of last March 31. They must give a full accounting of their receipts and disbursements.

A complete listing of special assessments or dues in the last year also is demanded and the unions are required to explain the amounts of their initiation fees, permit fees, regular dues, and per capita taxes paid parent or affiliate organizations.

Moreover, the investigators have demanded a sworn statement relating to the citizenship or nationality of each executive officer, business agent, and organizer. The unions must state the number of aliens within their memberships or give a percentage estimate.

Contractors Also Queried.

The questionnaires also ask whether each union involved refuses membership to persons who are or have been members of or affiliated with any communist or Fascist organization or party.

Questionnaires also were sent to the more than 10,000 contractors who must supply details concerning their profits, delays in execution of contracts, and the employment of lobbyists to obtain arms orders.

Both unions and contractors were reminded the committee is clothed with full powers to subpena individuals and records if the questionnaires are not filled out satisfactorily. Committee Counsel Edmund M. Toland said the questionnaires were employed instead of calling witnesses so as not to interfere with the arms program.

INDIVIDUAL TAX REASSESSMENTS LAW IS SOUGHT

State Board Pushes the Bill in House.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 5.—Authority to order a reassessment of the property of any individual or corporation in Illinois, without affecting an entire class of property, will be sought by the state tax commission, Phil Collins, chairman, said late today after a conference with Gov. Green. "Certain low assessments" investigated by the commission, point to the necessity for the bill, he declared.

This radical proposed change in the law governing reassessments will be introduced in the house tomorrow by the governor's floor leader, Frederick W. Rennick [R., Buda], Collins added. The chairman, who was accompanied by Tax Commissioner Richard J. Lyons on his visit to the executive mansion, preferred not to state the governor's attitude toward the bill, but Rennick's sponsorship seemed an indication of administration support.

Caused Tangle in 1928.

At present, the commission cannot order a reassessment save for an entire class of property-real, personal, or capital stock. The last such reassessment experienced by Cook county was in 1928, when the commission ordered the 1927 quadrennial assessment on real estate reassessed, with a resulting memorable tangle. Collins said the commission has no wish to repeat that experience.

"Investigation by the commission has revealed, however," Collins said, "that certain properties and corporations have, in our opinion, been assessed too low. But the commission does not want to disrupt the entire tax machinery of the state to get at individual cases, having in mind the chaotic aftermath of the 1928 reassessment.

No Review in Cook.

"The need for such a bill as we propose is applicable to Cook county in greater degree than in any other county in the state. Cook is the only county which does not have a board of review. It has a board of appeals, but the jurisdiction of the board is much more limited than that of any board of review in the other counties. The Cook county board of tax appeals merely acts upon the complaints filed before it and has original jurisdiction to assess taxes only in respect to omitted property. Likewise it has no power to correct assessments on its own motion.

"The tax commission is powerless to correct erroneous assessments. If this legislation is passed, it will be possible for the commission to call the attention of the assessor to any apparent error and require him to review his work and either confirm the assessment because of his belief that no error has been made, or to correct it in accordance with the actual value of the property.

No Delay in Collections.

"It is apparent that no delay would be caused in the collection of revenue under this bill, no serious costs would be involved, and no irritation caused any taxpayer whose property is properly assessed."

Collins declined to expand upon that section of his statement dealing with the low assessments he said had been discovered, but when the bill is considered by a house committee, this matter may be gone into at length.

The week's legislative session, convening tomorrow, is expected to see final passage of the administration's 2 cents a package cigaret tax bill in the senate. It went thru the house with flying colors and Lieut. Gov. Hugh Cross, president of the senate, said the senate would be held this week for as long as it took to give the measure final approval and send it to Gov. Green for signature.

ARMSTRONG QUIZ OF DRAFT BRIBE CHARGE IS BEGUN

Paul G. Armstrong, state director of selective service, arrived here yesterday to take charge of an investigation of draft board 110, at 1802 South Ashland avenue, whose chairman, Attorney Joseph W. Nosek, and an examining physician, Dr. J. P. Gardzielewski, were seized by federal agents last week on bribery charges.

Armstrong said officers examining the board's files reported a number of cases in which registrants had been placed at first in class 1A, and later in a deferred classification. Nosek was charged with accepting $35 from a registrant on a promise to defer him, and Dr. Gardzielewski with conspiracy to accept a bribe.

This is the first case in which actual evidence of dishonesty on the part of draft board officials has come to light, Armstrong said.

"GOLDEN SOFT" KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

NOW YOU'LL ENJOY JOINING THE "REGULARS"

Copyright, 1941, by Kellogg Company

THE CEREAL that helps so many Americans keep "regular" is now a regular treat!

IT'S DOUBLY DELICIOUS! It's made of finer quality bran from one of the world's softest wheats. Bright as shreds of gold, the improved ALL-BRAN is now crisper, lighter, more delicate! Try it tomorrow.

For years you've known KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN as a natural laxative cereal. Now try it for its delicious taste as well!

Kellogg grain buyers have discovered an extra-soft, extra-delicate wheat that is used for the finest pastry flours. And from this special grain comes a bran of exceptional quality.

Put through Kellogg's cooking and toasting ovens, it came out bright as shreds of gold, and lighter, crisper, more delicious than any we had used in more than 20 years of making ALL-BRAN.

And now the improved and more delicious ALL-BRAN is at your grocer's. If you or other members of your family are troubled with constipation due to lack of proper "bulk" in the diet, try this better ALL-BRAN. It is just as effective as ever—but doubly delicious.

Eat it every day, and drink plenty of water. ALL-BRAN is made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

NOW MADE FROM ONE OF THE WORLD'S SOFTEST WHEATS

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. COURTNEY OUSTS TRIAL ASSISTANT IN ABORTION QUIZ

Morris G. Meyers Denies Any Wrongdoing.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney yesterday announced the discharge of Morris G. Meyers, his leading trial assistant, in connection with the abortion ring investigation which already has caused two suicides, a murder, and the discharge of three other members of the state's attorney's staff. Meyers denied any wrongdoing.

Morris G. Meyers.

Meyers, who collapsed Jan. 23 during prosecution of a vote fraud trial, has been in the Sacred Heart sanitarium, Milwaukee, since March 1. He was questioned there Saturday by Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney.

Explanation Called Unsatisfactory.

After hearing Crowley's report, Courtney issued the following statement:

"In the course of my investigation I find it necessary to discharge Mr. Meyers. He was confronted with charges made against him and he did not have a satisfactory explanation. As far as my information goes at this time no other members of the personnel of the state's attorney's office are involved. However, others outside the office are involved, and my investigation will continue until the abortion ring is completely smashed."

Crowley's Version of Quiz.

According to Crowley, Meyers said he had read about the investigation and had been expecting some one to talk with him. He denied an accusation by Policeman Daniel Moriarity which connected him with the ring, Crowley said, altho admitting that Moriarity had asked him what sort of case he had last year after the arrest of three women in a raid at 190 North State street.

The three, charged with conspiracy to perform an abortion, were Ada Martin, now awaiting trial on a similar charge, Maxine Young, and May Strube. All were discharged in court when their attorney pleaded police entrapment. Moriarity, confessed fixer for the ring, is now awaiting trial for the fatal shooting last Tuesday of Jennie Martin, 24 years old, Mrs. Martin's daughter. He said he mistook the daughter for Mrs. Martin.

Preposterous, Says Meyers.

Meyers, reached by phone in the sanitarium, said:

"It is a preposterous and a ridiculous lie. I am utterly amazed that Mr. Crowley would act on his [Moriarity's] uncorroborated story without my at least being present. The whole case was presented in open court and the judge heard all the evidence and ordered me to return the defendants' property, which had been seized.

"No person in authority ever said anything to me about my conduct in that case until Mr. Crowley's visit Saturday."

Meyers, according to Crowley, explained that he had not mentioned his conversation with Moriarity because he thought it unimportant and said that he asked the police to turn over to him jewelry seized in the raid because he wanted it for evidence. The police custodian usually holds such property.

The two suicides in the investigation to date are those of Dr. Henry J. Millstone and his wife, Emily, both of whom faced charges of conspiracy to commit abortion.

Three Others Discharged.

Others discharged by Courtney in addition to Meyers and Moriarity are Emmett Moynihan, assistant state's attorney, and Policeman Daniel J Kenney, Moriarity's partner. Meyers and Moynihan had been on Courtney's staff since 1933.

Moriarity, who attempted suicide three times after his arrest and then went on a hunger strike, was reported taking nourishment in the Bridewell hospital yesterday. He has admitted having been on Mrs. Martin's pay roll at $100 a month and said he tried to kill her because of threats made by her when he failed to fix the case now pending against her. Mrs. Martin said: "He must be out of his mind."

Charges of conspiracy to perform an abortion will be heard before Judge John F. Bolton in Criminal court Friday against Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Josephine Kuder, her receptionist. Similar charges against Ann Blosser, Marie Larson, Mrs. Edna Bullock, and Roberta Powell, colored, will be heard today in both Safety and Felony courts. The last four were employed by Dr. Millstone, police say.

Investigate New Death.

Police last night hunted for the wife of a policeman for questioning about the death earlier in the day of Mrs. Rose Smith, 23 years old, 1956 Sheffield avenue. Mrs. Smith died in St. Mary of Nazareth's hospital earlier in the day, Coroner A. L. Brodie said her death resulted from an illegal operation performed Saturday. Her husband, Beve, is a die caster.

Coroner Brodie called in Sam Papanek, assistant state's attorney in charge of sex cases. Dr. I. M. Feinberg, coroner's physician, conducted a postmortem.

In the suit, Lubov named Tatiana Bouchinska, a dancer now appearing with David in Havana, Cuba, in the Ballet Russe, and asked that Tatiana be restrained from using the name Mrs. Lichtenstein. EX-CHOIR LEADER LEERS IN CHURCH, SAYS HIS EX-WIFE

Minister's Daughter Sues to Have Divorce Set Aside

The Rev. Merrell F. Boulton of St. John's English Evangelical Lutheran church, Maywood, has become almost a nervous wreck lately. The minister's daughter says it's all her former husband's fault.

Oliver M. Holliday.

Dorothy Boulton Holliday, 28 years old, the minister's daughter, filed a petition in Circuit court yesterday to have her divorce from Oliver Morton Holliday, 31, of 1935 South 4th avenue, Maywood, set aside.

Holliday married the church organist after the divorce and, the petition asserts, continues to attend church.

"Holliday has made the services of the Rev. Boulton difficult," says the petition. "He has conducted himself in a manner obnoxious by making grimaces, sneers, and otherwise disturbing the sanctity of the services.

"Forced to Retire."

"This has affected the welfare of the minister, causing him to become sick. His condition has become such that it will be necessary for him to retire."

Holliday, who at that time was the church choir leader, married the minister's daughter on Sept. 12, 1936. They separated April 15, 1937. Her attorney, Edward L. S. Arkema, based yesterday's action on the ground that a full year of separation had not elapsed.

Given $15 a Week.

The first Mrs. Holliday was given alimony of $15 a week for support of herself and their son, David, who is now 4 years old. She asserted that to live on that amount, she must reside with her parents, and the family is moving to Milwaukee. So she seeks permission to take the child with her.

The minister and his family live at 1208 South 5th avenue, Maywood.

Judge Cornelius J. Harrington, to whom the petition was presented, told Arkema that he had no jurisdiction of the case now on their motion.

In Pursuit of Romance

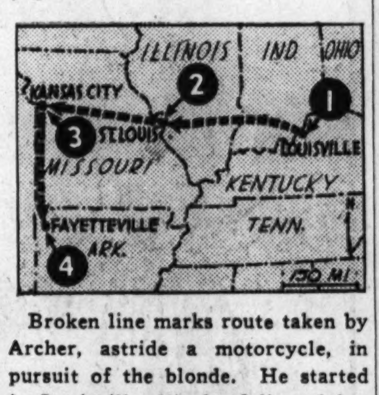
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Earl Archer, Arkansas university sophomore, in Kansas City yesterday to search for a blonde he met at Kentucky Derby and whose name he forgot.



Broken line marks route taken by Archer, astride a motorcycle, in pursuit of the blonde. He started in Louisville (1), he followed her car to St. Louis (2), altho she advised him that "father disapproves." There he lost trace of car, but went on to Kansas City (3), which the girl said was her home. Police found her there, but when Archer was denied permission to see her he rode on to his home in Fayetteville.

Wife Wins Reno Divorce from Robert Ostergren

Mrs. Marguerite M. Ostergren was granted a divorce yesterday in Reno, Nev., from Robert C. Ostergren, 536½ Michigan avenue, Evanston, an architect. They were married July 5, 1924. Mrs. Ostergren charged cruelty. The court was told there had been a property settlement out of court. Ostergren formerly was president of the Illinois Society of Architects and is a member of the committee for revising the Chicago building code.

EACH YEAR'S TAX DOLLAR GIVES UP MORE FOR RELIEF

Bill in State Jumps from 11 to 106 Million.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

Estimates of current expenditures by state authorities and records of other years yesterday pictured the gradual shifting of spending by the Illinois state government to the care of the needy, sick, and aged, and other wards of the state. Since 1925, according to the records, annual welfare expenditures have jumped from $11,528,303 to an all time high of $106,855,735 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1940.

The estimate for this year, made by George B. McKibbin, state director of finance, is $100,531,176 or 42.28 cents out of every dollar spent by the Illinois government.

The money is being used to meet the state's relief load, pay old age pensions, and pensions to the mothers and the blind, operate 35 penal and charitable institutions, which have a total of 57,000 inmates and patients, and pay the salaries of more than 10,000 state employés engaged in welfare activities.

Following is a list of the welfare activities carried on by the state, with figures showing how the 42.28 cents of each state tax dollar is being spent for these purposes:

Purpose.	Cents per tax dollar.	Total. amount.
Old age pensions	14.79	$35,175,614
Emergency Relief	18.56	44,144,985
Institutions	7.65	18,212,215
Blind pensions	.38	886,445
Mothers' pensions	.22	501,246
All other purposes	.67	1,610,671

The roll of old age pensioners in Illinois has grown to 144,384 and is steadily increasing. Only one other state, California, has a greater number. All except 4.7 per cent of money allocated for this purpose, including federal funds, goes directly to the pensioners. The rest is used for administrative costs.

Relief cases totaled 153,579 in March, according to the Illinois Emergency relief commission. The figures for April are not yet available, but the indications are there will be a reduction, chiefly because of the rearmament program and the consequent pickup in private employment. Last July, the total was 164,357. The all-time peak was reached in March, 1935, with 344,157 cases.

Welfare expenditures took slightly less than 12 cents out of every dollar in 1925, records show, compared with the 42.28 cents in the present fiscal period. Most of that expenditure was for the support of the charitable and penal institutions. At that time there was no emergency relief or old age assistance or pensions for mothers and the blind.

Five years later, in 1930, the ratio rose to nearly 21 cents and aggregated more than $20,000,000. There still was no relief or old age pensions.

In 1935 the relief load had forced the total up to $39,774,264, or 27 cents out of every state dollar. In the last fiscal year the welfare expenditures reached their peak of 45 cents per dollar, which included old age assistance and relief payments.

Following are the welfare expenditures by years since 1925:

Year—	Total.	Year—	Total.
1926	11,337,508	1935	39,774,264
1927	12,210,388	1936	†52,616,855
1928	15,142,798	1937	78,261,651
1929	17,337,401	1938	86,352,461
1930	20,000,351	1939	99,144,406
1931	20,814,662	1940	106,855,735
1932	*27,980,785	1941	‡100,531,176
1933	24,190,200

In his budget message to the legislature, Gov. Green asked for a reduction of $23,230,800 in the welfare appropriation for the next biennium. This would include a reduction of some 30 million dollars in emergency relief expenditures over the ensuing two years to be partly offset by a boost in old age assistance. The governor told the general assembly that according to estimates of actuaries there will be more than 152,000 old age pensioners by 1942 and approximately 156,000 in 1943.

BOOKIE RAIDED ACROSS FROM SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Twenty patrons and a wagon load of gambling paraphernalia were seized yesterday in a room on the fourth floor at 119 North Clark street. The patrons, said to have been betting on horses, could look across the street into the office of Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien on the fourth floor of the county building, just a few paces from the office of Police Commissioner Allman on the other side of the building.

BEGIN TESTIMONY TODAY IN PROBE OF FOOD PRICES

The government today will begin presenting evidence before the federal grand jury in an investigation of prices in the food industry. The jury was sworn in yesterday by Federal Judge William J. Campbell and was given an outline of the government's case by Daniel B. Britt, special assistant attorney general. James G. Badger, 801 Forest avenue, Wilmette, an executive of the Hines Lumber company, was named foreman of the grand jury. The inquiry will center first in the meat packing industry.

ALDERMEN ACT TO LINK SUBWAY WITH 'L' LINES

The city council transportation committee yesterday recommended that the city take $1,159,000 from its traction fund and use the money to build connections between the State street subway and the elevated lines. At the same time the committee directed that another ordinance be prepared requiring the city to spend an additional $3,313,000 from the traction fund for tracks, signals, and other equipment in the State street tunnel.

These expenditures, for which the committee's approval was asked by Mayor Kelly and Philip Harrington, commissioner of subways and superhighways, would push to more than 60 million dollars the cost of the city's 8½ mile subway. Of this amount 37 millions is to be taken from the traction fund and the remainder is being supplied by a grant from the Federal Works agency.

The transportation committee, faced with a lack of a tenant to use the subway tunnel, also asked the drawing of an ordinance to permit the Chicago Rapid Transit company [elevated lines] to use the subway on such terms as the city council may later provide.

Boy Dies of Burns Suffered While Playing with Matches

George Hoffman, 7 years old, died yesterday of burns suffered when he started a fire while playing with matches in his home at 6657 State street. His father, Robert Hoffman, who is partly paralyzed, said the boy set fire to some gasoline which had been used as a cleaning fluid. He said the boy had started more than a dozen fires in the home in the last two years.

A 10 day strike of the 50 employés of the Chicago Copper and Chemical company, in Blue Island, ended yesterday when the owners granted wage increases of 5 cents an hour and 10 per cent for piece work and bonuses. The employés, who have only an informal union which is nameless, said they previously made top wages of 38 cents an hour. W. K. Coolidge, secretary and treasurer of the company, said wages previously ranged from 38 to more than 80 cents an hour. The company manufactures barium and sodium compounds.

FUGITIVE FOR 14 YEARS PARDONED ON OLD CHARGE

Case Brought Into Open by Alien Registration.

Vincenzo Chiolo, a worker in a west side macaroni factory, trembled with happiness yesterday as he stood in the office of Attorney Daniel A. Covelli and started at the ornate document clutched in his hand.

"I can't believe it," he mumbled. "It's a miracle."

Almost 16 years ago, on a day in November, 1925, Chiolo, then 22 years old, was arrested in Gary for passing counterfeit $20 bills. A trial was followed by a sentence of four years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas.

Two years later, now an inmate of the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, O., Chiolo walked away while on farm duty. He wandered about the country and finally came to Chicago.

He Establishes a Home.

Chiolo worked hard, went straight. He did odd jobs. He saved his money. He got a job in a macaroni factory, married, and settled down to establish a home.

More than once, he said yesterday, he thought of giving himself up to authorities, but held off a little longer. Last September a crisis came when congress passed the alien registration law. Chiolo was a citizen of Italy.

Aware that his finger prints would reveal his criminal record, Chiolo asked advice from Attorney Covelli, who comes from the neighborhood in which Chiolo had established himself—Wentworth avenue and 22d street. Covelli investigated the story Chiolo told and found it true in every detail.

He conferred with Daniel M. Lyons, pardons attorney for the department of justice. At first a pardon was held impossible. But Covelli saying, "Chiolo's redeemed himself; any man who's been a fugitive for 14 years has been punished enough," strengthened his efforts.

Affidavits Are Collected.

From laborers and storekeepers, dentists, doctors, and housewives in the neighborhood, he amassed affidavits testifying to Chiolo's good reputation. Records of Chiolo's earnings, his habits, his associates, and his work were dispatched to the justice department officials in Washington.

From last December to March, agents of the federal bureau of investigation studied the affidavits and questioned Chiolo, his wife, his relatives, and the neighbors. Then the Chiolos waited.

Yesterday to Covelli's office came the result of all the effort and waiting: A Presidential pardon for Chiolo, signed by President Roosevelt. And Chiolo, called from his work and handed the document, repeated, "It's a miracle . . . I'll be straight and honest the rest of my life. Now I'm going to apply for citizenship."

SLAYER PAROLED AFTER ESCAPING MURDER CHARGE

A bandit who confessed a murder for which he never was tried is one of 225 prisoners in the state's penal institutions who were ordered freed on parole yesterday by the parole board.

John Hale, 43 years old, who was serving two sentences of ten years to life each for robbery and burglary, is the confessed slayer who was granted his freedom.

Hale was sent to Joliet penitentiary in 1921 to serve ten years to life for burglary. Prior to that he had served five years in jails in other cities.

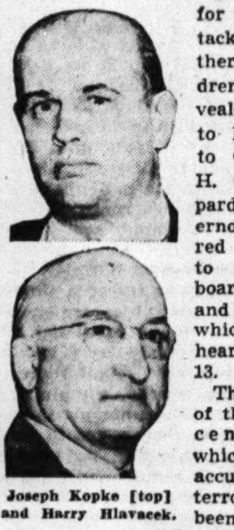
In March, 1923, he and another prisoner choked a guard into submission while they were being transferred from Stateville prison to the old Joliet penitentiary and escaped after forcing the guard to drive them to Lisle, Du Page county.

Hale was captured six months later and confessed he had shot and killed Howard K. Rhodes, a wealthy south side dry goods merchant, in an attempted robbery on a road near Evanston in August, 1920, before he had been sent to prison.

He was not tried for the murder, but was convicted on another robbery charge and sentenced to another term of 10 years to life. Prosecutors at the time said the murder charge was not pressed because the only legal evidence against Hale was his confession and they did not believe it would be sufficient for a death verdict.

TWO GOONS SEEK PARDONS BEFORE STARTING TERMS

Plea Filed After Butcher Agents Forfeit Bail.



Joseph Kopke [top] and Harry Hlavacek.

Two union business agents, under sentence of one to 14 years in prison for a goon attack on the father of six children, were revealed yesterday to have applied to Gov. Dwight H. Green for a pardon. The governor has referred the petition to the state board of pardons and paroles, which has set the hearing for May 13.

The case is one of the few in recent years in which defendants accused of labor terrorism have been convicted.

The men are Joseph Kopke and Harry Hlavacek. They were convicted on April 30, 1940, of assault to commit mayhem while working as business agents for local 638 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen.

They were accused by Czeslaw Mikolajczyk, 51 years old, a former member of the union who lived at 3035 Cullerton street. Unable to get a job as a butcher, he testified he took a job as porter in a meat market at 3710 26th street to get food for his children. As a porter, he said, he understood he did not need to pay dues to the union.

The victim said he was cleaning the market when the business agents came in on Jan. 6, 1940.

"Kopke had a gun," the victim testified. "He pointed it at me and kicked me in the groin. I fell into a chair and called for help. I asked for a doctor. Then, when I tried to get up, Kopke hit me on the head with the pistol. Hlavacek also hit me and I fell down, bleeding at the nose and mouth."

Taken to Hospital.

Other witnesses said that the victim had to be taken to a hospital after the slugging. Two members of the jury which convicted the defendants in Criminal court before Judge Joseph Graber were union members and another was the wife of a union member.

The convicted men have been at liberty since the trial on bonds of $10,000 each pending an appeal to the Illinois Supreme court. The Supreme court recently refused them a new trial.

Filing of the pardon petition was disclosed after the sheriff's office reported yesterday that the men could not be found to be taken to prison and Chief Justice James F. Fardy of the Criminal court had forfeited their bonds.

PROTECTING THE CIVILIAN SUPPLIES.

Edward Stettinius Jr., director of priorities, and Leon Henderson, chief of the office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, have issued a joint statement saying that their plans are being worked out to coördinate closely the activities of their agencies. They say that without conflicting with the production of military defense supplies they must supply the necessary materials and commodities for civilian use.

The well known German maxim during the period in which Hitler was preparing for war was "Guns instead of butter." The country went on a ration card for the distribution of such supplies as were available. In a period of preparation which drains resources, and in wartime, which drains them still more, the primary civilian needs are, first, food and fuel, medical supplies, and apparel.

Clothing requirements are to some degree elastic; old garments can have their ordinary life stretched out considerably. Essentials of the American food supply, such as wheat and corn, are being removed from local storage places to the ports to make room for the new crops. The granaries are bulging. The increase in food costs has been attributed to the government manipulation of supplies patterned along its intention of raising such commodity prices. So far as one can see, the problem of feeding the American people is solved before tackled if the government regulators would rest their hands more lightly on it. The job of protecting the civilians is, of course, an attractive one to the departmentalists who undertake it.

Even if the United States assumes many responsibilities beyond its shores, the demands on it this time are less than they were before. Then we had not only Great Britain, but France, Italy, and Russia on our hands, to say nothing of the small area of occupied countries for which we assumed responsibility. This time there is only the British and the question is not of finding the supplies but of getting them across. The chief food price booster in the country has been the New Deal.

By the time the new tax bill has been worked out and presented to the payer the problem of dispensable supplies and commodities will make as neat an automatic solution as could be expected of a law of nature. The avoidable expenditure will not be made. Purveyors will find that the tax collector has beaten them to the citizen's pocket book.

THE CHURCHILL-HITLER DUEL.

In one aspect of the war there is a personal duel between Mr. Churchill and Herr Hitler. The Englishman has contempt for Mussolini and has poured on him a scorn for which Il Duce hasn't found much of a comeback. The Furor is recognized in Downing street as a man of power as well as infamy.

Churchill's opinion of Hitler is summed up in a very short phrase, containing a full length portrait—"that bad man." Herr Hitler's extended remarks on Mr. Churchill's character and actions would indicate that the British prime minister can use short sentences with large effects on his subject. The Nazi's one advantage in debate with the head of the British government is that when he speaks he deals with successes and when Mr. Churchill speaks he explains failures.

Herr Hitler, with the forces at his command and with the years of preparation behind him, is not required to make mistakes. Mr. Churchill is directing forces which were inadequate in the beginning and still remain unequal to the power Hitler can concentrate when and where he wants to. Therein lies the difference between decision with success and decision without it.

Mr. Churchill has always had a liking for a daring adventure. It got him into trouble in the other world war and he still has to weather the consequences of the Greek and North African campaigns when they are taken up in debate in parliament.

Beaverbrook, who is now next to Churchill in power, relates in Vol. II. of his "Politicians and the War," how Churchill, then first lord of the admiralty, first lost the confidence of the wavering Prime Minister Asquith with what was known as the Dunkirk Circus. He had been asked by Marshal Joffre, thru Kitchener, whether a brigade of marines could not be sent to Dunkirk to reënforce the garrison and probably confuse the enemy as to British activities.

The first lord organized an expedition consisting of marines as infantry and a regiment of yeomanry as cavalry, with a fleet of motor buses and private motor cars armed with Maxims. This extraordinary unit landed at Dunkirk and, to the wonderment of both the British and French high command, dashed about the Belgian countryside, in and out of towns and villages, until Gen. French was ordered by Mr. Asquith to lay his hands on the circus and take it out of circulation.

Asquith had first consented to this maneuver, then was amused by it, and finally became highly irritated. Churchill's position was much weakened by an episode for the initiation of which he had little responsibility.

Hitler, in his Sunday speech to his puppet reichstag, reëmphasized a note he has been sounding for a year. It deals with what he calls the National Socialist character of the Nazi party and its world conflict with a decadent capitalism. When he gets on this subject he talks as if his understanding with Stalin were the natural outgrowth of commonly held economic and social theories.

When Hitler unwinds himself on this subject he seems to be drawing a good deal of inspiration from the Russian revolution and the doctrines of Lenin. The common ground may be the idealization of any dictatorship.

FACTS THAT SHOULD BE WEIGHED.

The people who are asking this country to believe that we are already at war would have the people ignore all the implications of that fallacy, if it should be taken as a fact. The economic implications and the almost certain destruction of republican government in this country that would ensue, are plain enough. There are also military implications.

If we accept this contention that we are at war we engage ourselves to send armies to Europe, Africa, the near east, or wherever else the conflict may be waged. President Roosevelt's pledge that no American will be sent abroad to fight would mean nothing then. The attempt to repudiate it is already under way, with the nation still formally at peace.

Regardless of other powerful considerations, we should not consider fighting abroad unless there is a reasonable chance that the forces we send there can win when they do fight. That chance does not exist today. The general staff officer who claimed recently that our army could fight tomorrow if need be is appropriately named —Twaddle.

Of course our army could fight tomorrow. Fighting is a matter of courage and discipline, which it has in plenty. The Poles, British, Greeks and others also had these qualities. They fought and lost. Courage and discipline were not enough. There must also be modern equipment. They did not have it. We do not have it.

Col. Lindbergh highlighted one phase of the equipment shortage in his speech last Saturday. Our military aviation was, so to speak, left at the post by the development of speed by the Nazi air force. In the rush to catch up, our airplane industry has been thrown into chaos. We put liquid cooled engines in planes designed for air cooled engines. Planes were put in mass production before the value of the design had been proved. British combat flyers recently interviewed in the United States gave testimony to similar effect regarding American airplane production. Our bombers do not hold up well when they suffer combat damage, our fighter planes are underpowered and underarmed, the men who have flown them in battle say.

Col. Lindbergh also punctured the fallacy, born of British wishful thinking and fostered by pro-British propagandists in this country, that Britain can beat Germany provided only that we give her enough planes to win air superiority. The best test of this fallacy is the failure of the Nazis, who now possess air superiority, plus bases a short distance from vital points in Britain, to beat England. If the Nazis cannot win under these conditions, how can the British, attacking vital German centers far behind the Nazi held coast of Europe, hope to beat the Germans thru air superiority alone?

Successful reduction of Germany by a British or British-American air force would require bases on the continent, as close to vital German centers as the Germans on the channel now are to vital British centers. That would mean an armed invasion of Nazi-held Europe. It would mean, among other things, a vast force of armored divisions.

Armored divisions do not form the whole of an army, but they are an essential part of a modern army. No army can fight a first class opponent without them. Our army has four armored divisions in process of formation. A large part of their equipment is already obsolete. It hopes to increase the number to six at the end of 14 months. The staff and officers cannot learn to use these weapons in maneuvers until the troops have the equipment. Considering this, and the delays that have attended other armament projects, it will probably be two years before our six projected armored divisions and six motorized divisions will be ready to fight winning battles.

Germany started the war with 10 armored divisions and has added 10 more since. She is still building. The Nazis have possession of the potential battlefields. Our equipment is on the other side of an ocean over which it is considered dangerous to transport even inanimate munitions.

If a time comes when we must defend our own shores, we must naturally fight with whatever weapons we have. We will at least have the comfort that any European attacker of the Americas assumes the burden of transporting a vast store of equipment over wide and dangerous oceans. Our weapons are adequate to meet such a threat. They are not adequate to an invasion of Europe, in which we must assume the burden of bridging the Atlantic and breaching a strongly defended shore before we can even bring them into play.

These are simple and apparent facts. Heed should be given to them instead of to the unthinking hysteria, knight errantry, and still less creditable motives back of this move to plunge us into a war from which there is no visible successful emersion. We are determined to defend America. To do that a declaration of war is certainly not necessary, nor is it desirable to precipitate it, as loose tongued gentlemen in Washington seem bent upon doing.

Editorial of the Day

A SALUTE TO THE BILL OF RIGHTS.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

Representative Sachs of Philadelphia has introduced in congress a bill which would provide a national celebration of the 150th anniversary of the adoption of the bill of rights. The anniversary will occur next Dec. 15, and under this bill the occasion would be known as national "bill of rights day."

It should not be necessary to have special days to remind ourselves of things so vital as the rights of free speech, free press, and free religion and the other guaranties in the first 10 amendments to the constitution. Yet these occasions do have value, as for example the great day when the President, the Supreme court, and congress led the nation in celebrating the founding of our government.

If a national observance of its sesqui-centennial next December will make Americans more conscious of the vital importance of the bill of rights in our democracy, let us have one by all means.

The sum we "owe ourselves" comes now to $1,813 for each family in the land. But only a deep-dyed cynic will try to deduct this from taxable income as a bad debt.—Detroit News.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

SEVEN SEAS AND SO FORTH.

What are the Seven Seas about which the statesmen in Washington are talking with imperial gestures? They are not seas, in the geographical sense of that word, but oceans; and their names are the North and South Atlantic, the North and South Pacific, the Arctic, the Antarctic, and the Indian oceans.

* * *

The phrase also has a figurative meaning: All the salt waters of the world.

* * *

We suspect that Rudyard Kipling had a hand in popularizing the expression. The verses that he wrote between 1891 and 1896 were published under the title, "The Seven Seas." They included such familiar items as "M'Andrew's Hymn," "The Liner She's a Lady," and "The Mary Gloster."

* * *

The catalog of famous "Sevens" is long and picturesque. It contains: The Seven Against Thebes, the Seven Bishops, the Seven Champions, the Seven Churches of Asia, the Seven Cities, the Seven Gifts of the Spirit, the Seven Deadly Sins, the Seven Gods of Luck, the Seven Heavens, the Seven Joys, the Seven Names of God, the Seven Planets, the Seven Sacraments, the Seven Sages of Greece, the Seven Sciences, the Seven Sisters, the Seven Sleepers of Ephesus, the Seven Sorrows, the Seven Virtues, the Seven Wise Masters, the Seven Wonders of the World, the Seven Works of Mercy, the Seven Hills of Rome, the Land of the Seven Streams, the Seven Lamps of Architecture, Seven Dials, the Seventy [four meanings to the latter].

* * *

Why this profusion of sevens? It's a mystic or sacred number according to the lore of ancients, such as the Pythagoreans. Being composed of four and three, both lucky, it is supposed to carry a double charm.

* * *

And Red Grange's number was 77.

SILENT BAND SHELL.

(News item: "Public Concerts at Grant Park Discontinued.")

And shall it then lie silent all the year,
Lie darkened and alone, forgotten, drear,
Nor any note of music sound to break
Its voiceless sleep? And shall no loving eye,
This year, look up to trace that shining arc
Silhouetted bright against the velvet sky—
The joyous singing heart of all the park?

Unnoticed now the little evening wind
Shall stir the bushes, and the grass grow long
Where eager feet no longer lay it low;
And no tired heart at end of day shall find
Its solace here in brave and innocent song.
The shell is dumb. O, weep that it is so!

Chicago's First Indian Treaty.

It was a fine mid-June day in the fort at Greenville; the stage was all set and Chicago was about to play her first part in the series of dramas in which red and white men would grope for peace. Gen. Anthony Wayne, the "White Captain who never slept," kindled the council fires and made his speech of welcome. The Potawatomies were there; they were encamped in the clearing long before the date agreed upon. According to John Moses, the Potawatomies were always on hand with a claim at a powwow. Week after week Indians surged into the fort; since their overwhelming defeat at the battle of Fallen Timbers the summer before, they, as well as the white men, were eager for peace.

Finally, the last of the 12 tribes of the Northwest Territory were represented when, on July 18, Blue Jacket and his Shawanese warriors made their grand entrance. General Wayne began negotiations by holding up before the 1,130 Indians a carved emblem of the arms of the United States, the eagle clutching in one talon a sheaf of arrows and in the other the olive branch of peace. During the hot July days that followed the long low council house rang with Indian oratory. Green Corn, a Potawatomie chief said, "I have come here on the good work of peace. . . . I come from Lake Michigan."

After more than two weeks an agreement was reached "at Green Ville, in the Territory of the United States northwest of the Ohio river, on the third day of August, 1795." The Indians surrendered two-thirds of Ohio and 16 small parcels of land, including "one piece of land six miles square at the mouth of the Chikago river emptying into the south west end of Lake Michigan where a fort formerly stood."

The original treaty, preserved in the Ohio State Archaeological Museum at Columbus, was signed by General Wayne and 94 chiefs and warriors, in the hope of establishing perpetual peace.

IN BLOSSOM TIME.

In blossom time, can any say
That life is desolate and gray?
When cherry boughs are drifted snow,
When springtime couriers, singing, go
Thru orchard lanes, which for a day
Are very heaven, who could lay
Upon the gods of far-away
One word of blame for fret or woe—
In blossom time?

What man could hate or envy know
When apple blossoms burst and blow?
When, free at last, the kindly May Endeavors winter's debts to pay—

NUTRITIONAL FALLACIES.

So much is being written these days about nutrition, and so many new facts are coming to light, that care must be exercised lest we be led astray. It is necessary to sift the chaff from the wheat. What we wish to do is to consume foods which will be helpful. The rôle of the discerning physician, therefore, is to establish his patients on a satisfactory dietary program.

Minerals, for example, are indispensable and we can show maldevelopment of the bones if these elements are lacking. As research sheds more light upon this subject we learn that in addition to the usual list of requirements, the body uses small bits of magnesium, zinc, cobalt, nickel, copper, bromine, silicon, aluminum, and some others. Even arsenic is invariably found in the tissues in minute quantites. However, no single chemical exists in a sufficiently high concentration to be poisonous. Nevertheless, each exercises important functions, chiefly in aiding reactions to take place far more speedily than they would without them.

We know that whenever iodine is present in the soil, edibles grown in these areas and served at the table will prevent the appearance of goiter. On the other hand, many cases of enlargement of the thyroid will be observed where the substance is absent or inadequate.

Most of us need iron. We lose each day some of this vital ingredient of hemoglobin [red coloring matter of the blood]. But we can't obtain it by eating raisins or white bread. Both are poor sources. Generous doses, however, may be obtained from egg yolk, liver, dried beans, whole grains, prunes, and greens.

One reason why we eat tomatoes is because of their copper content. The amount is just enough to influence the formation of hemoglobin. Believe it or not, this delicious plant has been accused of causing cancer. Nothing could be more ridiculous.

Every little while some one will send in a tirade against the use of aluminum cooking utensils. Now, this metal is widely distributed in the soil. It is absorbed by growing plants and is not toxic. Commissions composed of distinguished chemists have concluded, after thoro study, that this type of kitchenware is perfectly safe.

Not long ago a blast of propaganda was issued against spinach—a good source of iron—because it contained a trace of oxalic acid. This particular substance appears in many wholesome fruits and vegetables. A dish of rhubarb sauce will give us more than a bushel of spinach.

Some day we will learn that refined, pearl-white flour is not a natural component of the meals of a stalwart race. Minerals and vitamins are missing because they have been discarded. Perhaps most of our toothaches can be blamed on our failure to utilize whole grain cereals. A few authorities go so far as to say that a shortage of these products actually causes an interference with the absorption of calcium.

There is no value in doctoring milk. It is such an excellent nutriment—for infants and young children, at least—that adding coloring or flavors is an insult to nature.

We can't hope for robust health unless we can acquire some information about the demands of the body, and then treat it fairly. The simplest way to obtain our vitamins and other essentials is with our meals.

STARING.

R. M. writes: Can a frightened stare be the result of pressure on the brain or of insanity?

REPLY.

Most of us stare occasionally, particularly during meditation. Momentary gazing into space, with the eyes fixed on vacancy, may be an early sign of petit mal—a mild form of epilepsy. The patient is usually unconscious for a few seconds. In one type of thyroid disease the eyes appear to protrude.

HE SITS.

S. L. writes: How does a person take a sitz bath?

REPLY.

The patient sits in hot water with the level just above the hips. The object is to increase the circulation to the lower abdomen and the extremities.

RHUBARB.

F. B. writes: I have heard that it is not safe to eat rhubarb because of the acid it contains. Is this true?

REPLY.

No. Pieplant is an excellent food and one of our best spring tonics, as it is mildly laxative.

THE SOLDIERS' FEET.

Chicago, May 1.—The feet need air more than they need oil. That is the writer's experience for over 40 years. I had calluses for many years and used oil to cure them, but it didn't do any good, so in desperation to get relief I cut my shoes on both sides just above the soles about ¾ of an inch in length. Since then I've had no calluses. The feet need air. Try it and be convinced.

FRED NELSON.

Chicago, April 30.—Was most pleased to see in today's Voice of the People, under head of "Draftees: Oil Your Feet," that you have spelled the noun callus correctly.

We nominate this word as the one most universally misspelled.

C. F. DYCK,
Asst. Editor Clinical Journal of Chiropody.

Chicago, May 1.—Mr. James Larwood of Jackson Heights, N. Y., in his article, "To draftees: oil your feet," failed to mention what kind of oil to use.

I have often heard that oil was beneficial to the feet but never did know what kind to use. READER.

Chicago, April 30.—James Larwood is to be commended for his remarks about the care of enlisted men's feet. However, my experience as an enlisted man in active service overseas in '17 and '18 and examining C. M. T. C. boys as a reserve officer in the medical department in recent years leads me to say that the problem requires further consideration.

Oiling the feet will alleviate some of the conditions, but the modern soldier has numerous foot ailments which the oil treatment will not relieve. Considering the complexity of the human foot and the use to which it is put, especially by those of a previously sedentary occupation, is it not logical to assume that the chiropodists of the nation can render a real service in a corps of their own in the medical corps of the United States army, similar to the dental corps and other special branches?

A bill [H. R. 3738] to establish a chiropody corps is in the hands of the military affairs committee of the house of representatives in Washington with the possibility of a hearing in the near future. Parents and others are urged to write their representatives to give the bill favorable consideration to the end that our young men will have their foot discomforts attended to by specialists in that field. B. F. HUTCHINSON, D. S. C.

POLICE, PLEASE NOTE.

Chicago, April 29.—Two small boys were bitten today by a dog that had rabies. With summer almost here there will be many children as well as grown-ups bitten by dogs.

Isn't it time the dog license requirement be enforced? There is not a city block in Chicago that has less than 1 to 15 dogs. Many apartments have two and three.

Will it take a death from rabies to wake up Chicago? N. G.

TWO CONTRASTING VIEWS.

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 1.—It is unthinkable that America can ever get along in the same world with the Nazi government, now or any other time. The kaiser's government had a certain code of honor that at least bore a resemblance to that of the civilized Christian world. The Nazi government has openly boasted that its chief strength lies in its scornful rejection of all moral principle in its dealings with other states. Recent history has demonstrated that the Nazis mean exactly what they say.

America must eventually fight Germany. Why wait until that monstrosity has become so powerful that an encounter with it must entail the loss of millions of American lives? ERNEST A. SINTON.

Fostoria, O., May 1.—We wish to commend you for your activity in giving us Americans the truth, and aiding our program in the furtherance of keeping this country a democracy, thus eliminating the repudiated alien leadership which has settled down on our fair city of Washington and is promoting a murderous war which will destroy our democracy. It is becoming very evident that it will be necessary for the Americans, perhaps thru the America First committee, to form a new group of minute men of 1776 to throw off this alien yoke or our country will be destroyed.

I was in the last silly war which was promoted thru alien efforts, and our un-American leadership which would not have been tolerated in any other country in the world.

We trust that this war campaign will soon collapse as it must, and that we have younger, as well as genuine American representatives to lead us out of this maze. E. E.

A NEW SPENDING DRIVE.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 1.—Notice a newspaper headline reading "Roosevelt Opens Defense Saving Drive Tonight." Wouldn't it be more truthful to say "Spending Drive?"

As an example, notice has been given that new posters will soon be in streetcars reading: "We, the people . . . ARM FOR DEFENSE." And in the right hand corner, "Office of Production Management."

How unnecessary this streetcar advertising is. There seems to be no limit as to the amount of the people's money any government bureau may spend. And we must buy stamps to continue this extravagance. Is this patriotism?

A MILWAUKEE READER.

JUST A THOUGHT FOR TAXPAYERS.

Santa Barbara, Cal., May 4.—Perhaps it might reconcile the people who are slated to pay the oppressive new income taxes if it were called to their attention that they would have to pay these additional taxes for practically five years just to cover the amounts to be given England and China by the so-called lease-lend bill instead of helping to pay for our own defense program. A. T. NAUGLE.

THERE'S A NEED HERE AT HOME.

Chicago, May 3.—This country is giving millions of dollars every month to practically every country in Europe.

While the Americans are doing this, there are millions of Americans going hungry, people without presentable clothing and many thousands of children haven't shoes or proper clothing to wear to school. W. H. MORROW.

TRUST ESTATE.

Chicago, May 2.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If two of the heirs of an estate are executors, [1] can they also hold trust fund, or [2] does a bank or lawyer hold trust fund?

3. If not under bond can one of the heirs make them take out bonds for their share in the estate?

4. If so how can I go about it? Will the probate court help me in that respect? M. W.

1. Yes. If the will so provides.

2. There is no law requiring this, but you should bear in mind that many laymen would not have the capacity to handle a trust estate efficiently.

3. In general, the trustee need not give bond unless the will so provides.

4. You have not stated your relationship to the facts nor what you wish to accomplish.

In this column in yesterday's TRIBUNE an error occurred in the answer to a letter concerning the wages and hours law. For the dates 10/24/40 to 10/23/45 the minimum hourly wage was mistakenly given at 40c. It should have read 30c.

Old Time Flute Gives Proper Antique Air to Bach Concerto

BY EDWARD BARRY.

A musical instrument whose frail voice was heard in many a candle-lit public house during Bess' reign invaded up to date Kimball hall last night to give the proper antique air to a performance of Bach's Fourth Brandenburg Concerto. This was the recorder, the old type, end blown flute which Samuel Pepys and many another 17th century Englishman used to delight in during their intervals between business and mischief.

Altho it is not certain just what kind of flute Bach had in mind, the tone of the recorders used last night seemed to accord well with the character of the music. This tone is smaller and sterner than that of the modern transverse flute, and it does not seem as incongruous against the gray background of strings as the tone of its present day relative sometimes does.

However, the performance last night brought up the question as to whether the instrument is suitable for a hall even as small as Kimball. Often its sweet tone had to be forced in order to make a musical point. And this is no reflection on the excellent playing of Mr. and Mrs. David Dushkin.

This was the first concert in an important series of eight to be given by the Illinois Symphonic ensemble, a chamber orchestra of about 25 pieces. Leo Kopp conducted.

The program was not concerned entirely with works as old as the Bach. Indeed, only one other piece was by a composer not now living. This was music drawn from Purcell's opera, "King Arthur," and made into a suite for strings by Julian Herbage. It turned out to be an admirable piece of work in which the arranger has preserved the beauty of the fastidious Purcell melodies by his skilled handling of color and balance.

The modern works were Aaron Copland's "Quiet City," an expertly written and emotionally potent musical picture of a worried urban society; a clean lined and idea packed Divertimento for Strings by Béla Bartók, and the Etude-Caprice from Leone Sinigaglia's Two Characteristic Pieces.

Besides the Dushkins, the soloists were Irving Ilmer, violinist [in the Bach]; Pierino Margadonna, trumpet, and Samuel Pirie, English horn, in the Copland. The performance as a whole, considering the newness of the ensemble and the heat of the evening, was extremely creditable.

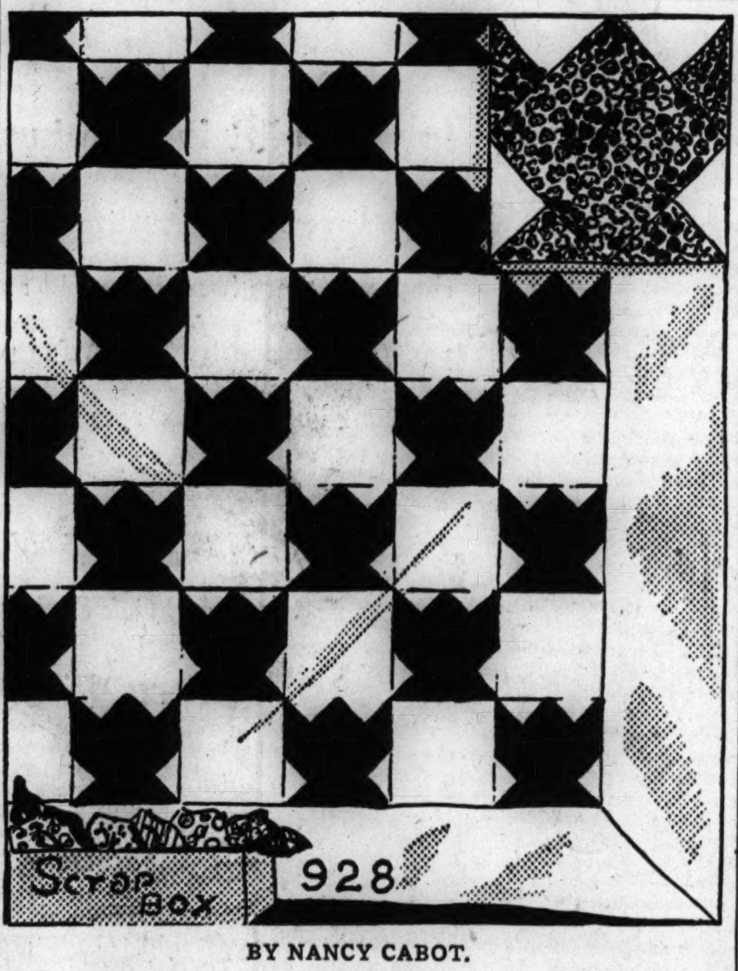
"Sugar Bowl" Quilt Design



BY NANCY CABOT.

The "sugar bowl" quilt pattern is a popular design well over 100 years old, and a favorite among those who prefer patchwork to applique. Printed materials originally were the favorites for the pieced block, and it was set together with plain blocks of white. Present day preference is divided between prints and plain colors. The completed block measures 7 inches square, and 32 pieced blocks are assembled in an alternate arrangement with plain ones.

For the "sugar bowl" quilt pattern, No. 928, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

Numerology By Evelyn Holmes

May 6, 1941.

Universal day—There is an increasing pressure now and so watch your steps even if your personal numbers are good.

This week—The combination of a five month [May is the fifth month] and a six year universally gives us an 11. Now five is the number of tremendous changes, of unexpected, swift events that upset the routine and conventional pattern. It is the number of rebellion, of kicking over the traces, of taking chances, of jumping in impulsively to situations, adventure, and speculation. The latter, speculation, will probably be one of the high points of this month so the stock market is likely to move very erratically. The gamble will be at great odds and so will the risks. If you want to keep your peace of mind and maybe something more material than that—stay on the sidelines. Not many will have the poise and good judgment during this crisis to hold their own. Since this is being written long in advance this warning might already be too late for some. I make no pretense of knowing what will happen, but the numbers suggest that it might be plenty!

Good Morning!

The itty bitty girl with the itty bitty voice, who made an old song ["O, Johnny How You Can Love"] live again, is featured, with Bandmaster Orrin Tucker, in the State-Lake's current picture.

So far as Bonnie and Orrin are concerned—they're great, making enjoyable ado out of practically nothing. Chief and most expert aid is rendered them by Edward Everett Horton who plays the itty girl's great big manager.

Most of the action occurs at a reducing spa where one Luke Laramie, a fat band leader is trying to reduce in order to wangle a television contract for makers of a reducing medicine. Here comes Bonnie to sing for nothing with Orrin's band, playing an engagement at the resort, in order that she may attract the attention of Laramie and persuade him to sign her up. Laramie wants none but a blonde—and Bonnie, as how you shall see—becomes one. . . . Also thru the offices of Frink, who had thought up the spa idea, she wears an aura of mystery. She is supposed to be a gangster's darling. . . .

Now Orrin, who had known Bonnie 'way back when, is all cut up besides being pretty mad. And Bonnie, who at heart has always been Orrin conscious, feels something terrible to think that he thinks what he does. . . . Complications ensue, but Orrin finally outwits Luke who thinks he has outwitted Orrin, and you are led to believe that Bonnie and Orrin are due to live happily forever after.

Both the Baker girl and the Tucker boy are long on personality. Orrin has just about the nicest smile I ever saw.

You'll enjoy them even if you don't think the rest of the show is any great shakes.

Kansas City Refuses to Renew Contract of Thomas H. Benton

Kansas City, Mo., May 5 (AP).—Governors of the Kansas City Art institute declined today to renew the contract of Thomas Hart Benton, outspoken muralist, as head of its department of painting and drawing.

Benton, whose pictures and phrases have resulted in numerous controversies, has held the position since 1935. His present contract expires next month.

Recently in a New York interview he labeled museums as "graveyards of art run by pretty boys with delicate wrists and a swing in their gate." Upon his return home he said his resignation had been sought.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., May 5.—Endless odds: Jimmy Stewart hasn't had a drink since he joined the army. . . . Joan Crawford has designed some shorts for evening wear. . . . Merle Oberon, no heavyweight, will wear costumes totaling 1,300 pounds in the film about old Boston, "Illusions". The Screen Writers' guild has 10,000 film about old Boston, "Illusions." you want to write a movie! . . . The Clark Gables, Director Eddie Cline, Bosses L. B. Mayer and Eddie Mannix are among those in the throes of the nine day meat diet. . . . Gene Tierney, whose eye ailment has abated enough for her to go back to work on "Belle Star," is believed by the docs to be allergic to chocolate, tobacco, wool, and white bread. There's hardly any fun left in life for the girl. . . . Republic has junked the footage of Comebacker Buster Keaton in "Puddin'head." Buster was too good, so the few shots he was slated for have been discarded and a large size part is being written into the picture for him. . . . Dorothy Lewis, skater of New York's Iridium room, has landed a Republic contract and will be in "Icecapades." . . . Ellen Drew will be the second woman—Ruth Hussey's the first—in Columbia's "Our Life." . . . Marx brothers have finished what looks like their swan song, "Bargain Basement." They did want to call it "Philadelphia Store," but the plan was abandoned. . . . Risé Stevens, here to make "The Chocolate Soldier" with Nelson Eddy, says getting ready for a movie is tougher than preparing an opera. . . . Reason why so many agents have offices on the Strip, between Beverly Hills and Hollywood, is that the licenses are taxed according to population of the community they work in. A Los Angeles license would be $100, but on the Strip it's only $10.

In 1919 the old Fox company catapulted an actor into stardom with Zane Grey's "Last of the Duanes." William Farnum was the star. Last week old Bill joined 20th Century-Fox to make a new version of "Last of the Duanes." George Montgomery, a new cowboy, will be the star, and Farnum has the rôle of Major McNeil, Texas ranger.

Everything is going on schedule at Metro's Ocala, Fla., farm, where "The Yearling" is being shot. The faun has been born. . . . The farm was started nearly a year ago. In recent months MGM has had 30 deer on its back lot here, so that the deer and Gene Ekman, the boy, could have time to get acquainted. Now they're on location. . . . The picture won't be any cinch for Spencer Tracy. Scenario calls for 19 sunrise shots, which means a long stretch of getting up early for Spence. . . . Another lad who's getting acquainted with animals in preparation for a screen rôle is Sabu, who's about to go in Kipling's "Jungle Book" for Korda. Sabu has to be familiar with Bagheera, the leopard; Shere-Khan, the tiger; Baloo, the bear; Mugger, the crocodile, and others. . . . Another big location crew has set out for Salt cay, an island 1,000 miles out of Miami, Fla., to make Edward H. Griffith's "Dildo Cay." Leads are Madeleine Carroll, Susan Hayward and Stirling Hayden. . . . Basil Rathbone's to be a Scotland Yard inspector in "International Lady." His detective sidekick will be George, a G-man.

John Brahm, Columbia's director, who staged "Escape to Glory," has been bagged by 20th Century-Fox and his first assignment will be the Henry Fonda-Joan Bennett "Wild Geese Calling." Brahm brings 20th's director list up to 20—a new high. . . . Morrie Ryskind has been assigned by the studio to write "comedy dialog" for "Cahrley's Aunt." What the heck was the original stuff? . . . Local consensus is that "A Woman's Face" is Joan Crawford's best job. . . . Longest title, and sure to be marked tentative, is "Abbott and Costello and Dick Powell in the Navy." . . . They couldn't find a blond lad to play Mac in "Tillie the Toiler" at Columbia, so William Tracy is wearing a blond wig. . . . A group of correspondents who have been feuding with the studios over not seeing movies soon enough jumped the gun last week by sneaking into a sneak preview at Huntington Park. It may have been coincidence, but the next major studio sneak was in San Francisco.

Parents Make Known Troth of Mary Wood

BY JUDITH CASS.

WINNETKA'S latest romantic news concerns Miss Mary Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolin D. Wood of that village. At a small tea on Sunday afternoon in their home the Woods announced their daughter's engagement to John Willard Marshall of Milwaukee.

Miss Wood was graduated from the North Shore Country Day school and from Bryn Mawr college. She and the former Miss Mary Randall, daughter of the Clarence Randalls, were presented to society at a joint party in 1936. Miss Randall and Gordon Gilkey were married last September.

Mr. Marshall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Marshall of Binghamton, N. Y. Since his graduation from Cornell university he has been in business in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Catharine Bartholomay Osborne's friends have been waiting impatiently to learn of her marriage to Henry Sprague Sturgis ever since it was first rumored and then announced that Mrs. Osborne and the New York banker would be married before June 1. Mrs. Osborne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, yesterday announced that the marriage took place on Sunday in Greenwich, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomay went east for the ceremony, and are spending this week in Greenwich with their other daughter, Mrs. Simeon B. Chapin Jr., who resides there.

Miss Althea Cunningham Plans to Be Wed June 12.

Miss Althea Cunningham and William Baillie Johnson are making plans to be married on June 12 in the chapel of St. James' church. A reception will follow in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Aldis J. Browne. Their daughter, subdeb Elizabeth Browne, will be Miss Cunningham's only attendant.

Miss Cunningham, who was to have been a debutante next fall, is the daughter of Mrs. Stough Cunningham and of Secor Cunningham Jr. Mr. Johnson attended the Hotchkiss school and the University of Washington. He is the son of Mrs. K. B. Johnson of Sierra Madre, Cal. If his grandfather, Alexander Baillie, is able to come from Tacoma, Wash., for the wedding, he will be best man. Mr. Johnson is engaged in business in Chicago.

Miss Mary Blair Gardner, who returned yesterday from a visit in New Haven, Conn., with her fiancé, William Curtis Taylor, and his parents, the Edwy L. Taylors, will have only two attendants at her wedding on June 7 in the Church of the Holy Spirit, Lake Forest. They are Miss Gardner's cousin, Mrs. Anthony M. Ryerson, the former Margaret Hutchins, and Mr. Taylor's sister, Miss Angeline Taylor. John Taylor of New York, will be his brother's best man.

The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock, the Rev. Herbert W. Prince officiating, and a small reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner of Lake Forest.

Usher Shortage Threatens Sills-Warner Wedding.

Miss Dorothy Warner and Clarence W. Sills Jr., who are being married on June 25, are afraid there may be lots of bridesmaids but few ushers at the ceremony. Several of the young men Mr. Sills has asked to attend him have been drafted, or have enlisted, or are about to be drafted. If all goes well, however, not only will there be plenty of ushers to beau about the unmarried young women among the bridesmaids, but also, after a reception at the Winnetka home of the bride's par-

Gunmen in Winnetka.

When Mr. and Mrs. James Prindle returned to their home on Sheridan road in Winnetka last Friday night after an evening away from home they found a living room window open and a bottle of Scotch and two cameras lying on the floor by the front door. They decided it was the effect of Dick Tracy on their three children, so they laughed, and went upstairs. At the head of the stairs two polite young men, one with a revolver, asked them to "freeze." Their immediate paralysis was broken by the thought of their children. Mr. Prindle was nervous when Mrs. Prindle stepped up to the gunman and demanded to know whether the children were all right. Without waiting for an answer she flew into the bedroom to look for herself.

"That's all right," said the gunman soothingly, never moving his gun from Mr. Prindle's middle. "I know how it is. Got a kid myself."

The three chatted about the Derby until Mrs. Prindle returned and said the children were all right. Then the gunmen departed, forgetting the scotch and the two cameras.

About Katherine Dunham.

Katherine Dunham, the south side girl who made her first appearance in a musical play before a Chicago audience at the opening of Cabin in the Sky Sunday evening was very nervous before the curtain went up. So nervous that she permitted herself expression of her one superstition—a hangover from Haiti where she spent months studying West Indian dances. She sprinkled toilet water about lavishly, a gesture Haitians make to Damballa, their chief God. Main reason she was nervous: At 8:25 her dancers, who should have been in makeup and costume by that time, were only beginning to arrive backstage. Most of them are Chicago girls, and welcoming friends and relatives made it difficult for them to get to the theater on time.

Miss Dunham, who is something of an anthropologist—she lectured on the subject at Yale and at the University of Ohio—is writing a book, an analysis of primitive dancing. She also will make her first movie when the Cabin in the Sky company goes to the west coast. It is a technicolor two-reeler called Brazilian Rhythm for which John Pratt is doing the sets and costumes.

At Camp Livingston.

Private James Durlacher of the 106th cavalry bulletins a little incident that entertained troopers at Camp Livingston, La. One of the troopers told his favorite story about two soldiers: The first soldiers said "What do you think of a fellow who goes riding at 12 at night?" The second asked "Who did that?" "Paul Revere," answered the first. The cavalry man finished, and a draftee spoke up. "What troop is he in?" he inquired.

Illinois Tech Junior Week Features Kiss, Intelligence Tests

How intelligent are college alumni? The kisses of the girls of which sorority produce the strongest emotional reaction in male students? What is an oscillograph? How would your friends look on a television screen?

Answers to these and other questions will be demonstrated by actual tests today and tomorrow during the open house at the Armour campus of Illinois Institute of Technology. The two day affair is a 36 year old tradition at Armour, which began yesterday with a one day open house at the Lewis division.

The kissing test, in which the emotional reaction of students to co-ed kisses will be measured by a special machine, is expected to be a big drawing card. Alumni will be given intelligence tests, and their ratings compared with those of freshmen. Other events include a pentathlon today at Ogden field, 33d and Federal streets, a student musical revue tonight, demonstrations by virtually all departments of the Armour division, and the jupging of a whisker growing contest. The winner of this contest will be shaved in public at 1 p. m. today.

BY CECIL SMITH.

Helen Hayes, as she capers with exquisitely feminine masculinity thru the frolicsome part of Viola, is somebody special and rare to behold. Here is no sedate Shakespearean prima donna condescending to take an academic fling at comedy. Youth and gayety and a rash disdain for possible eventualities take possession of her from her first scene. Her emotions come and go with effervescence and brevity of adolescence. She does not create circumstances; she simply lets them buoy her up and carry her along.

She can be as blithe and giddy as her black striped pantaloons; she can tremble with inexperience and terror at the prospect of a duel with an opponent no more formidable than Wallace Acton's incomparable namby-pamby of a Sir Andrew Aguecheek; she can hurl a defiant rejection of Olivia's maladroit offers of love; she can mischievously kiss the large bearded cheek of Mark Smith, the Sir Toby Belch.

It is a marvelously volatile performance, indeed, but it never loses the precision of its command upon the essence of Viola's nature. "Twelfth Night" is no ordinary comedy of disguise. The whole point is lost unless Viola's budding womanhood is always apparent, no matter how manly an outward demeanor she may strive to maintain.

And Miss Hayes, whose sweet genuineness makes her always seem simultaneously a little girl and a remarkably knowing woman, has created a performance as instinctively true as it is thoroly and carefully considered.

Maurice Evans, a co-star, but not a vis-à-vis, since Viola and Malvolio live in separate sections of the plot, gives a highly mannered but infinitely diverting portrait of Olivia's vain and literal major domo. He embellishes his speech with a Cockney accent and sounds somewhat like Ruth Chatterton in "Pygmalion" when he tries to aspirate his h's. His whole performance, and notably his appearance in yellow stockings and cross garters, represents an adroit mixture of patrician overelegance with discreet hints at slapstick.

Sophie Stewart, cool and beautiful, makes Olivia a genuine noblewoman and enhances the power of her scenes with Viola by her intimations of the confinement of aristocratic reserve thru which her heart had to burst in order to assert itself. Wallace Acton's Feste is conceived with great mastery in every detail of speech and movement and proves Shakespeare's thesis that it takes wit and intelligence to be a good clown.

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

With lighter colors and lighter fabrics brightening up your wardrobe these warm days be sure you change to a perfume that's lighter in character than the one you use with winter clothes. Try a brand new one that's a miracle of cool sophistication without being heavy.

With the winter-into-spring jump the weather has taken, we've noticed that the perfumes we so dearly love during the cold months don't strike us as being nearly so attractive. With cottons and prints and lighter colors we want perfumes that are lighter in feeling, too.

As tho in answer to our prayer we got a new one in the other day. A summer special if ever there was one. The interesting thing about it is that while it's lilting and cool it's not lacking in that bit of punch or zip that makes a perfume memorable. It has sophistication, but it's not wearing or overpowering.

The outer package is a little cutie pie of a white cylinder gayly decorated in a design of colorful fabric swatches. The bottle itself is simple and smart, with a perfectly stunning stopper in a lilac blue glass. The fragrance isn't floral; it's a blend with a faint suggestion of an amber note and a definite hint of a woodsey note. If you think that combine over you'll realize that the effect is something rather wonderful for summer use! It's the perfect perfume to wear with summer silks and shantungs and cottons.

We found this extraordinarily lasting and we particularly liked the fact that it didn't get muggy as time wore on. Some very lasting perfumes do, you know. We also liked the fact that it isn't terrifically expensive.

Understanding a Child Aids in His Guidance

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Children can best be managed if you know at least something of what to expect of them. If you have set your heart too resolutely on making your child conform to certain standards you have set, you are bound to be disappointed. For while he is very young, or is going thru the emotional trials and physical changes of the in-between and adolescent ages, nature has him pretty strongly in charge.

You have to go with the tide quite a lot where children are concerned, meaning that you cannot go against nature, buck the current, and make any real headway. So don't scold or blame when they make mistakes. Adults make mistakes, too, you know. And, above all, don't argue. That is fruitless and gets you nowhere.

The thing to do, rather, is to get a general idea of what natural urges a child has at different ages, how he responds to his environment [meaning both people and material things], let him be sure of your understanding and love, and then channel his energy in the way best for him.

Hard Case

SYNOPSIS.

Carol McFee, whose father, Bruce McFee, is about to lose his ranch to Wallace of The Three Rivers outfit because Wallace has forged a deed, writes to Dave Coyle, notorious outlaw, to help her father. With a price on his head, Dave daringly rides into Yellow Jacket, gets the letter and goes to the town hotel while Sheriff Beal, and Deputy Ernie See organize an armed force to capture him. Carol follows Dave to the hotel and explains that Senator Maitland, their lawyer, tells them the chances of getting back the ranch are almost hopeless, as Wallace is bringing a witness, Sholto, to the trial to testify that her father signed the deed. Will Usher, Dave's enemy, proposes a partnership in kidnaping Sholto and demanding ransom of Wallace. Dave, thinking it will help Carol, agrees, but when he kidnaps Sholto and turns him over to Usher, he finds Usher has double-crossed him and escapes just in time to save his life. Sheriff Beal, finding the note Carol wrote Dave in the hotel, arrests McFee for kidnaping and possible murder. Dave goes to the jail, gives himself up to get a chance to talk to McFee, then he and McFee break jail. Wallace knows that if Sholto is really murdered McFee will possibly hang for it, so when Usher's messenger demands ransom he refuses to pay it and tortures the messenger trying to make him tell where Sholto is being hidden.

INSTALMENT XX.

TORTURE.

Yesterday, Wallace had wanted to kill Beal. He still wanted to today. There was only one cause for cheer in the whole picture, and that was that Beal and Ernie and the whole town and county believed McFee and Coyle were guilty of Sholto's murder. McFee had damned himself by this escape. Now, all that remained to do was to take care of Sholto. And where the hell was Cord?

At the corral, Wallace cursed his men out for loafing and sent them about their business away from the ranch. They were a hard-case crew, used to cursing and needing it. Afterwards, he came back to the log wing, his face sullen and ugly, and went into the kitchen.

Two women, one an elderly, placid looking woman, the other young and pretty, were busy in the kitchen. Wallace threw his hat in the center of the room, sank into a chair, and said: "Gimme some breakfast."

The older woman watched him speak, then began bustling about. The breakfast, or that part of it that would keep, was in the oven. She set about frying eggs while Wallace filled a cup with hot coffee. The younger woman was kneading bread and she paid him no attention.

Wallace watched her a moment, his pale eyes speculative, and then he said: "They're tellin' in Yellow Jacket that Coyle killed your husband," he drawled.

The girl whirled to face him, dismay and fear in her face. She looked at Wallace and then her expression changed. She was a pretty woman with warm, dark brown hair and eyes almost the same shade. Relaxed, her face might have been serene and placid, but not now. There was a tension there and it had been there for a long time, so that her expression was worried and almost sullen.

She said levelly, "You lie."

"But Dave Coyle ain't got him," Wallace said, watching her.

She seemed puzzled and he went on, "Dave was in jail in Yellow Jacket. He broke loose yesterday. He claims not to know anything about Sholto at all. Don't that prove to you that he killed him?"

"No."

"Then where is he?"

"He—he escaped," the woman said.

"Then why ain't he come back here to you?"

"He'll be back," the girl said stanchly.

"Me, I think he's dead," Wallace said. Sholto's wife didn't, he could see that. And now there was no fun in ragging her, so he ate his breakfast in surly silence.

He had almost finished when Sholto's wife said: "There's a strange rider just come in."

"Alone?" Wallace asked quickly.

"Yes."

Wallace left his breakfast, grabbed his hat and went out. Lily Sholto watched him thru the window, her face twisted with hatred. Then she felt a hand on her arm and turned to face the older woman. Mrs. Babson looked at the girl and shook her head and Lily sighed, then smiled. Mrs. Babson couldn't talk, for she was mute, and she couldn't hear, for she was deaf. She was just another precaution that Wallace had taken so that nothing that went on here would be repeated outside.

Wallace, glancing around as he walked toward the corral and the strange rider, saw one of the crew shoeing a horse at the blacksmith shop. He whistled, then beckoned the rider and went on his way, feeling more comfortable. He was a little edgy with strangers, now that Marty Cord was gone.

But it turned out that the man wasn't a stranger. He was the same man who had demanded the ransom for Sholto in Yellow Jacket. Then where was Marty? Wallace felt a cold suspicion, mingled with anger, as he approached him.

"Don't worry none," the rider said, without preliminary. "Your rider that followed me is safe enough for all of me. I shook him."

"What rider?" Wallace asked coldly.

The rider shrugged. He glanced at the man walking over to them and said, "You couldn't be spooky, could you?"

"About what?"

"Dave Coyle, I reckon.

"Listen," Wallace said meagerly. "Light a shuck out of here. I ain't goin' to buy Sholto back from you, so that's over."

The man grinned. "Buy him back?" he echoed, and then he laughed shortly. "Mebbe not. But do you know what you're going' to do?" He paused, letting Wallace savor the question, and then he said, "You're goin' to pay us $50,000 not to bring him back."

"I said you're goin' to pay us $50,000 to keep Sholto hid. Is it worth it?"

"You're loco," Wallace said angrily.

The man shrugged. "Suit yourself. Sholto's murder is hung on McFee and Coyle, and they've escaped. That means a price on their heads, and sooner or later some one will gun 'em." He grinned. "You'd look damn silly, now that you've got McFee outlawed and a murder hung on him, if Sholto was to show up. Of course, with Sholto you could likely win your court fight. But with him murdered you already got it won. McFee will hang or get killed. Now do yau savvy?"

"I savvy," Wallace said slowly. The Three Rivers rider was standing just a little behind him, listening.

"If I don't aim to pay you off to keep Sholto hid, what will you do?"

"Turn him over to Sheriff Beal. Beal will send the word out that McFee ain't wanted. Then you'll have to go on with your court fight."

Wallace regarded him with a queer smile playing on the corner of his thin lips. "And if I pay you, what do you do?"

"Whatever you say. We'll keep Sholto hid if you say the word. We'll turn him over to you to keep hid if you want."

"Will you—get him out of the way for good?"

The man stared at him, understanding him well enough. He said quietly, "Not for that price. Do your own killin', Wallace.

"Who's got him?" Wallace said abruptly.

The man shook his head. "Now, I don't aim to tell you that."

"Where is he?"

"Nor that neither."

Wallace's hands had been hanging at his side. Now he raised his right hand in one fluid motion, and when it came to rest hip high there was a Colt .44 in it, cocked, leveled at the rider. Wallace said, "This time I'll find him myself."

The rider didn't even seem surprised. "I don't reckon you will."

Wallace said, "Joe, take his rope and tie him."

The Three Rivers man did Wallace's bidding. Afterwards, Wallace led the way over to the blacksmith shop, his rider leading the hogtied messenger. In the blacksmith shop Wallace pointed to the big anvil and said, "Tie him over that, face up."

The messenger was ordered down on his knees, his back to the anvil. He said with just a suggestion of alarm in his voice, "What are you aimin' to do to me?"

Wallace only smiled and told his rider to get on with the job. The messenger was bent over backwards and lashed to the anvil, the rope running under his arms. Then Wallace went over to the forge, blew the coals there into glowing heat, took a branding iron from the rack and laid it on the coals.

The messenger, who was watching him carefully, saw him and said, "I don't know nothin' about it, I tell you! I was only sent here!"

Wallace turned to him and only smiled faintly. He picked up the iron by its long handle and came over to the messenger.

Mothers' Aid Hears Its Praises Sung for Aid to Hospital

President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, praised the organization for turning over to the hospital $10,000 a year for 37 years "with clocklike regularity." By financial contributions and by volunteer service "high in quality, enormous in volume," Dr. Hutchins said, the Mother's Aid has helped to establish higher standards of obstetrical practice, teaching, and research.

Dr. Joseph B. De Lee, founder of the hospital, cited also the organization's additional contributions of $400,000 for the present Mothers' Aid pavilion, and $85,000 for a former pavilion. Dr. Fred L. Adair, chief of staff of the hospital; Dr. Arthur C. Bachmeyer, director of the university clinics; Miss Laura Hope Crews, veteran star of the stage and screen, and Miss Ethel Waters, singer and actress, were among others on the program.

Irish Crochet Lace a Popular Summer Accent

BY REA SEEGER.

Salt-white Irish crochet lace is a revived summer accent frosting for city sheers and all-dark summery materials. From head to heel this effective lace is the best white highlight for any costume. Lace or banding will accent the swoop of a huge bumper-brim dark straw hat. Wider bands will be ideal for appliqued accent under or on top of the brim itself. Small, coquettish turbans are made entirely of Irish lace or of ruffled, plaited white or black organdy edged with narrow Irish lace.

Collar and cuffs of the stuff provide the patrician accent for handsome dark silk suits and coat dresses. Dinner and cocktail dresses are elaborately highlighted with a short jacket or with wide, dashing lapels or a deep round yoke of beautiful Irish lace. It's even dyed black or brown to use for a dress parade blouse with afternoon suits or separate long dancing skirts of black crêpe, faille or plaited chiffon.

Both dark and light colored gloves are cuffed with this lace. [You can sew it on yourself.] Bags are dramatized with this lace, sometimes completely covered with it, some with it on only the outer side.

Blouses are trimmed with vertical rows of narrow Irish lace. It whirls around the edge of grandstand and garden party parasols, it is used for belts, for bows and the wide midriff sections of dark summer evening gowns. The lingerie collections star this never old and fascinating lace. You'll find it in beautiful batiste nightgowns, in fitted costume slips and in the matched sets of negligee and nightgown not only on white, but in the pastel tints of pink, yellow, and blue.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Declarer often can make highly significant deductions from the opening lead, this, of course, assuming that the lead has been selected with some thought, not merely tossed out at random. I appreciate the ironical implication of my statement and freely admit that the player who carefully considers his leads and plays may be giving more information to the enemy than if he were to close his eyes and "pull a card." There are isolated instances in which the most ridiculous plays work out beautifully, but it hardly follows that this will be the rule.

In today's hand declarer knew that the opening leader was not a hit-or-miss player, and therefore was able to draw a valuable deduction.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	5 diamonds	Pass
Pass	Pass

Since North had passed originally, South felt that a slam was remote and that, since he had little defense against either major suit, a preëmptive bid was the best course.

West was rather on the spot for a good opening lead. To lead from the A-J-6 of spades certainly was not attractive, nor was he much inclined to lead away from either of his kings. He decided on the waiting lead of a trump.

When the dummy went down, declarer saw that the trump opening had given him a temporary reprieve from defeat since, of course, he saw that he was off two hearts and one spade in top cards. East signaled with a high heart on the first trick and, with the lead resting in dummy, declarer considered the one point that would determine the fulfilment or loss of his contract. Obviously, he could get rid of one of dummy's hearts by guessing the position of the club king. If East had that card, declarer could finesse against it and then cash the ace, to discard a heart from dummy. If West had the club king, the winning play would be to lead the ten to the ace and send the queen thru West, discarding a heart if he failed to cover, or ruffing if he did cover, then returning with a trump to discard on the established jack.

Mathematically, it was exactly 50-50 but, fortunately for the declarer, the problem was not purely a mathematical one. West had opened a trump, which was the strongest sort of indication that he feared leading from other suits. What was more likely than that he held the heart and club kings, possibly with the spade king as well, or some sort of combination in spades he dared not touch? On this sound reasoning declarer determined to play West for the club king, and the game became a laydown.

CUBS TRADE BILLY HERMAN TO DODGERS

NINTH ANNUAL GOLF SCHOOL OPENS NEXT TUESDAY

CHICAGO PROS TO INSTRUCT ON FOUR COURSES

Lessons Are Free to Every One.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Fore!

For the ninth consecutive year, that familiar fairway cry introduces the opening of the free golf school conducted by THE TRIBUNE. This largest of all group instruction plans in the history of American sports will open on Tuesday night, May 13, on the four courses of the Chicago park district, with members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association of America again making up the faculty.

Since the inception of this school in 1933, a total of 257,000 free instructions in the fundamentals of the game have been imparted to men, women, and children in the Chicago area by Illinois P. G. A. members. Last year's aggregate of 59,000 lessons was under the all-time high of 73,000, established in 1939, but the 1940 classes were conducted in the face of the most fickle weather in the records of the school, the opening lesson twice being postponed. In spite of this effort of the weather man to stymie the party, a total of 8,500 prospective students disregarded the rain and appeared at the four courses demanding instruction. This enthusiasm on the part of the students has been the school's outstanding testimonial since it was founded.

Officials Skeptical at First.

When the school was first held in 1933, following a suggestion by Tom Walsh of Westgate Valley, now national president of the P. G. A., and Julian Lambert, then a daily fee course operator, it was received with a great deal of skepticism by a number of golf officials. They felt that it was impossible to conduct such a large scale plan successfully. The first year's classes were all that were required to convince them that the job of teaching the A B C's of the game to thousands of beginners could be done.

So successful was that first school that it became a model for scores of others thruout the country, with civic organizations, schools, and other P. G. A. sections seeking details on how to conduct similar classes in their cities. In so far as the Chicago area is concerned, the Tribune sports department annually receives hundreds of calls toward the end of April from former pupils who are eager to return to class and brush up on their swings.

Most Progressive Group.

The members of the Illinois section of the P. G. A. generally are rated the most progressive group in the national organization, and they have been highly instrumental in making the school the tremendous success it is. Ten years ago the value of spreading the doctrine of golf fundamentals thru group teaching was just beginning to be a topic at P. G. A. meetings thruout the country, and the Illinois section was the first to take definite action, with The Tribune school serving as its vehicle.

The record of 73,000 lessons in the 1939 school can be traced directly to the use of the Chicago Park district courses. When the school was inaugurated in the 1933 season, the courses of the Chicago Daily Fee Golf association provided the classrooms for the free lessons, 27 of these being used. In 1936 the sponsors of the school decided, with the approval of the daily fee association officials, that its scope could be broadened thru the use of the four park district courses, all of which had convenient locations, easily reached by rapid transit, bus, and surface lines.

Permission Readily Given.

The subject was brought before the commissioners of the park district, and their ready permission to use the courses proved the final answer to the ideal school. In the five years since the introduction of these courses as classrooms, thousands of metropoli-

Daily Double Pays $1,942 at Sportsman's

A quintet of lucky individuals left Sportsman's Park last evening $1,942.80 richer. All five possessed winning tickets on the daily double combination of Tall Oak, the 7 year old brown gelding owned by Mrs. M. G. Farnsworth, and the W. F. and C. V. Sparks bay colt, Sunchia, the winners of the first and second races.

The huge double, the largest of the meeting and one of the biggest in Sportsman's Park history, was the result of the upset victory of Tall Oak in the opener. He was an 82 to 1 shot, who paid off at $166.00 for each $2 win ticket, $131.80 to place and $31.80 for show.

But DiVernon—Ouch!

Sunchia was well liked by the form players in the second race and was at better than 2 to 1. However the horse that furnished most of the excitement was DiVernon. He ran second, was an outsider and victory for him would have meant a daily double of close to $10,000.

The holder of the lone daily double ticket on that combination, tore it up with the words "Well, I can dream can't I?"

George Azzato, a salesman, taking an afternoon off from his chores, was the only ticket holder who would divulge his identity. He lives at the Graemere hotel, and he's going to put the dough in the bank.

Kelley Marches On.

The star of Paul Kelley, the Iowan, is still in the ascendancy at Sportsman's. He accounted for his third major triumph in four starts when Cherry Trifle won the Glen View purse at a mile and seventy yards in handy fashion from Mrs. E. Oros' favorite, Bucking. Jockey Jimmy Berger was astride the winner and the victory brought him back on even terms with Leon Haskell and N. L. Pierson, a mount behind Don Scurlock in the close battle for riding honors.

Peace.

Mankind in love with God, his mind and hand
Pursuing ways to bless man's common good;
The home a sacred place where souls may stand
As kings and queens within a neighborhood
Of blended home and school and church and state;
Regard in all for all thru all the years;
These things are peace, they make a nation great,
They bind in one toward freedom from our fears.
A just division of earth's goods to all;
God's golden gift of work denied to none;
And there'll be no response to bugle call
For these, the peace which God Himself designed,

VOGELS' 3,065 CAPTURES ABC TEAM CROWN

Chicago Squads Take the Next Three Places.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5 [Special].—The Vogel Brothers team of Forest Park, Ill., a member of Chicago's Windy City Major league, tonight reached the objective of all teams in organized bowling when it became champion of the 1941 American Bowling Congress tournament. The team was announced as champion and winner of first prize money of $1,500—plus diamond studded medals for its members—after tonight's 120 teams, the last of 5,798 quintets entered, had bowled and the 3,065 it rolled on March 30 still was high.

Chicago teams also won the next three places, the Rheingold Beers, champions of the South End Traveling league, taking second with 3,054; Joseph L. Gills, chanmpions of the Windy City, Randolph, and Stevenson Major leagues, third with 3,034, and the Chapin & Gores of the Randolph and North End Traveling leagues fourth with 3,033. Second prize money was $1,200; third, $1,000, and fourth, $875. On the Chapin & Gore team were the Faetz brothers, Leo and Matt Jr., who were members of Chicago's Monarch Beer team when it won the 1940 ABC championship. Chicago also provided another team among the first 10, the Koenig Braus of the Classic league tying for eighth place with 3,022.

32 Pins Short of 1938 Score.

The Vogels' total was 32 pins shy of the 3,097 count they piled up in 1938 when they finished as runnersup to the Birk Brothers team, but that was the year the Birks hit 3,234, a record for 41 years of ABC competition. The new champions counted 2,754 in 1939 in Cleveland and 2,810 last year in Detroit. In those three years they won a total of $1,023 of prize money.

In the Windy City circuit this year the Vogels were an average team, finishing in a two-way tie for eighth and ninth places in the 16 team league. They won 46 and lost 44 games, averaging 967-42 pins. The Gills, league champions, won 63, lost 27, and averaged 992-75. In the West Suburban league the Vogels twice counted high totals, rolling 3,485 once and 3,412 in another match.

Erben Fifth in All-Events.

John Erben, a member of the Vogel Brothers, also is among the leaders in the ABC all-events. His 1,961 places him in a tie for fifth place. Whether he will be displaced tomorrow when the last of the singles and doubles are rolled is doubtful.

Indications tonight were that teams rolling 2,670 and over would win money prizes.

The high team among the 80 that rolled on the first two squads was Ambrosia Beer of the Classic league which hit 2,760.

Rookie Pitcher's Hit Beats White Sox in 11th, 5 to 4

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Under the evil guidance of one Lester McCrabb the White Sox yesterday were forced to set a 1941 record for themselves. Altho James Dykes' gallants proved able enough to burst forth with a tying ninth inning run they succumbed in the 11th when the same McCrabb, not content with restricting himself to his mound chores, exploded a single. The hit drove in a run which gave the Athletics a 5 to 4 decision and at the same time fixed up the Sox with a three game losing streak, their longest of the season.

The success of McCrabb, last season farmed out to Toronto by Connie Mack, meant a part failure for Eddie [Lefty] Smith, a Mack graduate, and a complete failure for Pete Appleton, who was called into service at the start of the ninth. When the bats of Mike Kreevich and Myril Hoag tied it, the battle became Pete's personal affair. He lost it when Pete Suder singled to open the 11th, moved to second on a bunt and breezed home on McCrabb's single.

OBTAIN GILBERT, CASH; PURCHASE JOHNNY HUDSON

Ex-Cub Captain to Report Today.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 6, Tuesday.—The Cubs parted company early today with Billy Herman, their second baseman since his purchase late in the season of 1931, and b ytrading him to the Brooklyn Dodgers made the transaction which they turned down earlier in the spring and which they said was "the equivalent of voting Brooklyn the pennant."

Herman was traded to Brroklyn for Charles M. Gilbert, center fielder of the Dodgers' farm club at Montreal, and an unannounced amount of cash. The Cubs then used $25,000 of the cash received to purchase Johnny Hudson, Montreal second baseman. Herman will report to Brooklyn today.

Deal Long Rumored.

The deal was made by Larry MacPhail, the Dodgers' general manager and General Manager James Gallagher and Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs. It followed weeks of rumors which began during the training season when MacPhail dropped in at Cub headquarters. It was on his visit then that Gallagher made his statement concerning the value of such a trade to Brooklyn.

Herman, who on July 7 will be 32 years old, played in 1,333 games in 10 years as a Cub. He maintained a batting average of .310, hitting a high of .341 in 1935 when he also led the league in hits with 227 and in doubles with 57. Last year he dropped to .292 for 135 games. He batted .259 in 14 world series games in 1932, 1935, and 1938. He also holds the National league record for most putouts by a second baseman in a single season, 466, which he made in 1933. He was the Cubs' team captain following the departure of Woody English—also to Brooklyn—tho he had not been considered as serving in that capacity this season.

Entered Baseball in 1928.

Herman was born in New Albany, Ind., and broke into baseball with Vicksburg in 1928. He finished that season with Louisville and the next year was at both Dayton and Louisville. He played all of the 1930 season with Louisville and remained with the club until his purchase by the Cubs late in the season.

Gilbert ,who is 22, was born in New Orleans and is the son of Larry Gilbert, former National league outfielder, ex-manager at New Orleans and now manager and half owner of the Nashville club in the Southern association. He played semi-pro ball until two years ago when he was claimed by Nashville. Brooklyn bought him last year and he played thru its early season winning streak. He then suffered a charley horse and lost his place in the outfield to Dixie Walker. Later he was sent to Montreal, showing a record of 57 games and a batting average of .264 with Brooklyn.

Herman May Play Today.

Hudson, who was born in Bryan, Tex., in 1914, was with Brooklyn during the last four seasons, but was sent to Montreal during spring training this year. In 1938, his best year with the Dodgers, he hit .261 in 135 games. Last year his average was .218 in 85 games. He plays all infield positions except first base.

There is room for speculation concerning Hudson's assignment, but it is likely he will have to fight for the second base job with Lou Stringer. Herman, on the other hand, may be in the Dodgers' lineup today, replacing Pete Coscarart. Leo Durocher, the Dodgers' manager—who was not in on the negotiations leading up to the trade—is the kind of a fellow who may put Billy to work at once.

After the deal had been completed, MacPhail asserted that he had been outfoxed and that he would be willing to repurchase his two former chattels at a considerably higher price than he had obtained for them. But that's another story.

CUBS RAINED OUT

New York, May 5.—It was rainy in New York today, and dismal, too, if it's the Cubs you want to know about. Of course, the Chicago ballplayers were glad to skip the ordeal of placing their talents on display in the Polo Grounds in their second game with the Giants. But it was pretty tough for them to have to sit around indoors and reflect on their several deficiencies.

The Cubs' escape today was temporary. They will not be able to avoid the contest altogether, for the game is scheduled to be played off in a double header here on June 11. There is some hope, tho, that the lads will not have to play tomorrow. The weather man forecasts about the same precipitation as today's, altho the sun busted out spasmodically after the postponement.

It was the sixth straight victory for the Harrison nine, and the first setback in six games for Farragut. The victors' attack was led by Pitcher Stan Ryczek who hit two home runs in recording his fourth victory this season. He faced 26 men in seven innings, for five innings did not yield a hit, and limited Farragut to three hits.

Lane won from Taft, 9 to 2, for its fifth straight to remain on top in the north section; Calumet trimmed Parker, 8 to 2, to maintain its lead in the south division, and Steinmetz defeated Crane, 4 to 3, for its sixth victory in seven games in the west zone.

Indiana Pins Track Hopes on Five Stars

BY WILFRID SMITH.

If Indiana university wins the Western conference track and field meet in Minneapolis a week from Saturday, Roy Cochran, Campbell Kane, and Archie Harris, with assistance from Wayne Tolliver and Fred Wilt, must get the title by individual superiority. Indiana already has showed that it probably does not have team strength to win the championship by amassing second, third, fourth, or fifth places.

This statement is based on the recent triangular meet between Indiana, Ohio State, and Purdue. The Hoosiers won seven of the 15 events and Ohio State took six. Ohio State scored 70 points to Indiana's 64½ points. Indiana probably cannot win more than four individual championships in the conference meet. Harris is pretty certain to take the discus throw in which he is defending champion and holder of the all time mark, but he does not figure to defend his shot put title successfully on the basis of returns so far this season. George Paskvan of Wisconsin defeated him in the Big Ten indoor meet.

Who Can Outstep Kane?

Kane certainly figures to take the conference mile. He won this event Saturday in the triangular meet in 4:16. But winning the half-mile will be difficult for the Indiana star. This event in the Big Ten meet is scheduled only half an hour after the running of the mile. Kane was defeated in the conference half-mile last year by Wisconsin's Ed Buxton. Les Eisenhart of Ohio State is a threat in the half-mile, but Michigan's Warren Breidenbach has developed into the conference's outstanding half miler.

Indiana's Cochran, who lost the 440 yard race in 1939 to Breidenbach, may win this event. Bob Ufer of Michigan, or Breidenbach, is his most formidable opponent.

Cochran holds the key to Indiana's hopes. Saturday Cochran won the quarter mile and broad jump, finished fourth in the 220 yard dash, and was second in the 220 yard low hurdles.

Wilt seems assured of victory in the two mile run. The race probably will be between him and Ed Holderman of Purdue, the 1940 champion. Wilt defeated Holderman in the triangular meet Saturday in 9:21.5.

Michigan Shows Power.

Michigan won nine events and shared in another championship while defeating Notre Dame in a dual meet Saturday, 74½ to 56½. Al Piel won both dashes and was timed in :09.8 for the 100 yards. The conference defending champion, Myron Piker of Northwestern, won this event last year in :09.7.

There are five events in the two meets Saturday in which the winning marks by Indiana and Michigan can be compared. They are:

MICHIGAN.		INDIANA.
Matthews	1:56.6	Kane	1:56.4
TWO MILES.
Wisner	9:27.5	Wilt	9:21.5
HIGH JUMP.
Canham	6 ft. 3⅞ in.	Mikulas	6 ft. 2¾ in.
BROAD JUMP.
POLE VAULT.
Decker	12 ft. 6 in.	Wible	12 ft. 4 in.

Decker Can Do Better.

Kane can improve his half mile time, of course, and Decker is a better pole vaulter than his mark against Notre Dame when all four contestants tied at 12 feet 6 inches. Michigan's ace in the fight to win its fifth consecutive outdoor title is its mile relay team. The Wolverines ran the mile in 3:17 to defeat Notre Dame.

NINTH ANNUAL GOLF SCHOOL TO OPEN ON MAY 13

tan residents who would have been unable to reach the outlying courses were able to take advantage of the free instruction.

Every One Is Welcome.

It should be made plain to all newcomers that The Tribune school is not restricted to those who may have played the game previously, nor yet to those green novices who never have swung a club. The player who has been trying for years to break 90 or 80 is as welcome to attend the classes as he or she who never has hit a ball. The lessons are absolutely free. The only requirement for enrollment is your prompt presence at that one of the four park courses nearest your home on each of the four nights of the regular classes. Bring a club to each lesson, preferably a driver for the first. [The professional in charge will inform all his students of any change in the type of club for the remaining lessons]. If you don't own a club, borrow one.

Each lesson will begin promptly at 7 p. m. Every pupil is urged to appear at the course nearest his or her home 15 minutes before that hour, in order to facilitate the opening of the class on time.

The first lesson will be given next Tuesday night; the second on Thursday night, May 15; the third on Tuesday night, May 20, and the fourth and last of the regular series on Thursday night, May 22.

The four Chicago Park district courses at which the lessons will be given by the Illinois PGA members follow:

Prize Pupils Will Be Picked.

At the conclusion of the fourth regular lesson on May 22, the No. 1 teacher at each course and his colleagues will choose the most apt pupil—man, woman, boy and girl—at each course, and those rated second best in acquiring the fundamentals of the game in the regular four lessons.

This will reduce the school to a graduating class of 32 prize pupils. These will assemble on Sunday afternoon, May 25, at one of the four park district courses, to be announced later. A special jury, composed of the men who have handled the instructions at the four courses then will examine the swing of the 32 finalists. The four—man, woman, boy and girl—adjudged to have learned their lessons best will be given golf bags and a set of clubs by THE TRIBUNE. The remaining 28 finalists will not be forgotten, each receiving one dozen golf balls.

Each Lesson Supervised.

Each of the lessons at the four courses will be supervised by a teacher-lecturer. Alex Cunningham of North Shore, president of the Illinois section of the PGA, and one of the prime movers in the conduct of the school, will assist in the teaching at the Diversey courses, while Tom Walsh, the national president, will strive to visit each course at least once. Lew Waldron, who has been in charge of classes at Columbus since his arrival here, will exchange places with Bill Gordon of Tam o'Shanter, who will go from Diversey to Columbus. Matt Matteson of Ridge, Illinois secretary, and Harry Kinnell of Edgewood Valley, will be the respective supervisors at Jackson and Marquette parks.

ATHLETICS BEAT SOX IN 11TH, 5-4, ON PITCHER'S HIT

McCrabb's Single Ruins Appleton's Relief Job.

mates. He was rudely jarred in the fourth by three hits, one a two run homer by Al Brancato. This put Smith in arrears, 3 to 0, but he was advanced into reaching distance by two runs in the fourth, only to fall back again when scored on once in the eighth. Then the Sox got serious by scoring one in their half of the eighth and the game tying counter in the ninth, which saw Kreevich score from first on Hoag's single.

McCrabb's technique in the late innings appeared to be indifference to men getting on base, and concentration on making them expire in their tracks. Prior to the sixth only four reached base, two of them scoring. A single with none out in the sixth failed to disturb the young man. Three Sox hits in the eighth netted only one run. Then after the tie, McCrabb was confronted with Luke Appling's double in the tenth with two out, but Joe Kuhel rolled out to Dick Siebert. The eleventh was more strenuous. Taft Wright led off with a two bagger and Don Kolloway ran for him. Kolloway was bunted to third by Dario Lodigiani. Kreevich flied short to Sam Chapman, Hoag walked, and Mike Tresh fanned.

Three Damaging Blows.

There wasn't even a hint of a Philadelphia uprising in the fourth until after S. Chapman and Siebert had been thrown out. Frank Hayes inaugurated the advance by slapping a low liner into center. It looked like a single to everybody but Hayes, who proved he was right by reaching second ahead of Kreevich's throw-in. The catcher scored on Suder's single to center, after which Brancato hit his season's first homer into the left field pavilion.

Appling touched off the two run Chicago fourth by singling to center and getting transportation to third on Kuhel's double down the right field line. Wright sent S. Chapman far back to pull in his fly ball, Appling scoring and Kuhel going to third. Lodigiani then hoisted a fly over short left and it dropped between Al Simmons and Brancato for a single, Kuhel scoring.

One Out to Go—Sox Tie It.

S. Chapman pushed open the eighth with a single to left and Siebert, after failing in one attempt to bunt, changed his mind, but didn't take the Sox into his confidence. They were still deployed for a possible bunt on the second pitch, but Siebert took a half swing and poked the ball into center for a single, S. Chapman going to third, whence he scored on Suder's fly to Kreevich. The Sox recovered this run in their half on singles by Tresh, Pinchman Julius Solters, and Appling, but with two on the bases Kuhel fouled to Suder for the third out.

McCrabb was so close to winning in the ninth he needed only one more victim, having shaken off both Wright and Lodigiani. Then Kreevich tapped a gentle roller to the pitcher, but it escaped for a single. On the first pitch Hoag flashed a hit and run sign to Kreevich who took off without delay. He was almost at second when Hoag lined fiercely over short. Kreevich kept on going and reached the plate with the tying run just ahead of Brancato's relay which, in the mixup, bounced away from Hayes. Hoag went to second on the error, charged to Brancato, but Tresh fanned just as he fanned in the eleventh to end the game.

Johnny Rigney, the White Sox pitching ace, whose spring training was delayed by a throat infection, will make his maiden start of 1941 this afternoon in the final of the series with the Athletics.

FIVE IN ROW FOR FELLER, ELEVEN FOR INDIANS, 2-1

Senators Make Only Three Hits in Defeat.

Cleveland, O., May 5 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians stretched their string of victories to 11 today—the longest in the major leagues this season—with a ninth inning 2 to 1 victory over the Washington Senators behind the three hit pitching of Bob Feller. It was Feller's fifth consecutive triumph and included 12 strikeouts.

Facing a Washington lineup revised to put the maximum number of left handed hitters against him, Feller pitched deliberately most of the way, but wildness overtook him perodically. He walked seven.

Ken Chase went all the way for the Senators and yielded only three hits in the first six innings. Cleveland touched him for four more in the last three.

GOMEZ, YANKS LOSE.

Detroit, Mich., May 5 (AP).—The New York Yankees were whipped today for the fourth time in seven games in the west as the Detroit Tigers backed Tommy Bridges' six hit hurling with a five run blast against Lefty Gomez and won 7 to 3.

The Tigers were held to six hits, but made four of them, including Pinky Higgins' double with the bases loaded, count heavily.

A Champion's Progress

[This is the fifth of a series of articles on golf by Lawson Little, National Open champion, who, before becoming a professional, was the only man in history to win the British and American amateur championships in two consecutive years.]

BY LAWSON LITTLE.

As soon as the excitement of my selection on the Walker Cup team of 1934 had subsided, I began to train for the job. I played golf as often as I could and kept more regular hours. Since we sailed in April, I would have to drop out of the spring quarter at Stanford university, but I had the best part of the winter quarter in which to get ready.

We sailed from New York on April 21. We traveled in the off season, so the boat wasn't crowded. Gus Moreland soon established himself as a double champion—at eating and at pingpong. The likeable Texan thought nothing of having two steaks for dinner. He also figured in one of the funniest incidents of the trip, when it took us a couple of hours to get him into a tuxedo and stiff shirt. The next night, we exchanged tuxedo trousers between Max Marston, who had an approximate waistline of 44 inches, against Gus' approximate 32. You can imagine Gus running up and down the cabin aisles demanding to know what the presser had done with his trousers.

Complete Swing Properly; the Club Will Follow Thru.

Yesterday, our instructional suggestion brought the beginner into the first phases of the downswing. I'd like to finish that now. In the downswing, as the left hip turns to the left, the effort of the force used in swinging the club, will naturally make the left hip slide slightly forward. The left heel is immediately returned to the ground at the start on the back swing. This returning of the heel is the result of the unwinding of the body, and not the cause after the unwinding of the body. Balance in golf is simply the giving of the body to the swinging of the clubhead. The follow thru is the result of a good swing, not the cause.

As for those 1934 Walker cup matches, I probably was more worried about the outcome than any other member of the team. I kept wondering if I would be the only American to lose a match, or what would happen if the result of the series depended on my particular match. Fortunately, I played well in the matches at St. Andrews, winning my singles from Cyril Tolley, 6 and 5, and helping Johnny Goodman win in the foursomes.

The British amateur was due to start in 10 days at Prestwick, Scotland. I felt that I had justified the U. S. G. A.'s selection of me on the Walker cup team, and felt that anything I might do at Prestwick would be gravy. I saw by the draw there that I would not meet a "name" player until the third round. That proved to be Eric McRuvie, a British Walker cup player, and I felt that if I could make a good showing against him, and not lose worse than 3 and 2, I would have upheld my selection. When I won, I was elated, and still of the attitude that anything that happened from there on would be all right.

Jim Wallace Bumps Into a Golf Dream Walking.

I began to play better and better as the tourney went on, and found myself in the finals against Jim Wallace, the unemployed Scotch carpenter. In my warmup session before the match, I found myself hitting the ball perfectly, and felt if I could continue that way on the course, I had a good chance to win. As it turned out, I played better than I had practiced. I played the first 18 in 66, first time an amateur ever had broken 70 at Prestwick, and three shots under MacDonald Smith's course record. I was 12 up at noon, and played the first five afternoon holes in 3-3-4-3-3 against a par of 4-3-5-4-3. This was just one of those dream days, the kind all players dream about, when nothing can go wrong. The unusual part of that tournament was that at no time did I entertain any thoughts of winning it. I simply wanted to make good for my choice on the Walker cup team.

The 1934 American amateur was played at Brookline, Mass. I worked on my game all summer long, with the tournament as my main objective. I won the Northern California Open against a fairly fast field of pros, and then found that I was reaching the peak of my game, too soon, in fact. This was borne out by my pre-tournament rounds at Brookline. After starting with a 68, I soared to a 75, and then became really worried that my game was slipping off. I won my first two matches with mediocre scores, and finally drew Willie Turnesa, who that morning had beaten Charley Yates with a fine 66. Actually, Willie frightened me into winning that match with my best golf of the tournament. I have since thanked him many times for scaring me back into playing the golf that ultimately won the championship for me.

One of the main factors in the temporary collapse of my game at Brookline was a hooking spell, something we're all occasionally subject to. I later learned that this was due to faulty left hand and arm action. I was allowing my left hand and arm to collapse as I came into the ball. In other words, I didn't have a firm or positive enough hand and arm on that side, something that I'd like to stress for beginners when they find themselves hooking.

Bangs, Metz Win on 73 in Oak Park Golf

It was fitting that the names of Chick Bangs, Dick Metz, and Eddie Bush should be among the winners of the annual pro-managers' tournament for members of the Illinois section of the PGA and the Chicago District club managers' association yesterday. For the event, first of the Illinois PGA section's competitive season, was held on their home grounds—the Oak Park Country club.

Manager Bangs and Professional Metz teamed up to defend the title they had won in last year's event, when it was decided on gross alone. They walked off with first gross prize again yesterday with a 36—37—73, one over par, for the two-ball, selective drive battle.

Bush-Miller Win Net Honors.

Capturing the net end of the championship was a team including young Bush, who has joined the Chicago professional colony as assistant to Metz. Eddie collaborated with Russ Miller, manager of Evanston to win net honors with 38—38—76—8—68.

Other gross victors included Orville Schell and Fob Dioguardi of River Forest, with 38—39—77, and Johnny Gibson and Jake Fina of Olympia Fields, with 38—42—80.

Bill Bangs-Stupple, Second.

Manager Bill Bangs of Exmoor and his professional, Alex Stupple, won second net with 86—16—70, while Manager Barney O'Grady and Chuck Tanis of Olympia Fields were third with 81—10—71.

Jim Ferrier-Paul Worrell, Elmh'st	79	10	69

Another Card Rookie Wins Debut, 5 to 1

Boston, Mass., May 5 (AP).—Left handed Ernie White became the fifth member of Manager Billy Southworth's rookie pitching corps to win today when he held the Braves to five hits while the St. Louis Cardinals gained their 10th consecutive triumph, 5 to 1.

White, the eighth starter the Cards have used since they were defeated last, by the Reds, 3 to 2, on April 24, kept the Braves scoreless until the eighth when, with two out, Max West hit a pinch home run.

The Cardinals made all their 11 hits, including Enos Slaughter's third homer of the season against Starter Dick Errickson, who suffered his fourth consecutive defeat. Errickson gave way to Lefty Art Johnson after the eighth, when Slaughter hit a home run with Johnny Hopp on base.

HAGEN FLATTENS DUBS IN TWENTY SECONDS OF FIRST

Johnny Trotter of Chicago stopped Gordon Palmer, Minneapolis light heavyweight, in the sixth round of a scheduled six rounder.

In preliminary bouts George De Guido, Minneapolis featherweight, beat Eddie Carson of New Orleans in four rounds and Tony Sopko defeated Speedy Schaefer, also in four. Sopko and Schaefer are Chicago middleweights. Last night's gross gate was announced as $2,090.59.

WHITE BASS ARE ON RUN; EXPECT PEAK THIS WEEK

BY BOB BECKER.

Chicagoland fishermen, who each spring look forward to the white bass run in the Wolf river country of Wisconsin, can toss their tackle into the car and head for Oshkosh, Gills Landing, Winneconne, Fremont, and Weyauwega. It looks now as if the white bass run will be at its peak this week.

That's the word from fishermen who are on the river. White bass are leaving lakes and moving up the Wolf river to spawn. Sunday was a big day on the river from a crowd standpoint, altho nothing extra as far as fishing was concerned. Thousands of boats holding anywhere from one to four fishermen were on the Wolf. With so many craft churning around, fishing was poor, but the guides figure the bass will hit well this week. Warm weather is what is needed to speed up the spring migration.

One of the residents of the Wolf river valley said Sunday he believed the first run of bass last week came from Poygan lake and that the main run from Winnebago is just getting under way. The wall-eyed pike run which precedes the white bass migration is just about over. Only a few pike were hooked last week-end.

White bass aren't very large and require no heavy or special tackle, but a school of them often gives a fisherman considerable action. The bass are free biters. Nearly all the Wolf river fishermen rely on live minnows. We suggest the use of fly rods, if one is going to drift or troll.

YES, our draft beer in ½-gallon bottles is made just like the beer folks used to carry home in a bucket 50 years ago. Our packages are just as handy for you as we can make them, and our bottling equipment is strictly modern and fast. But our methods are strictly old-fashioned—and slow.

Speed and short cuts are fine for some things—but not to make old-time beer. We won't add sugars or syrups—won't change the old-time, all-grain flavor of MEISTER BRÄU that people like so well.

The "50 Degrees Test" of flavor shows plainly enough why we won't change. At 50 degrees' temperature, true flavor—good or bad—shows up undisguised by too much cold. That way you can judge beer quality as experts do—and enjoy delicate flavor cold hides.

EXPECT SENATE DECISION TODAY ON AIR SUBSIDY

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky conceded today that the senate is closely divided on the administration's proposal to subsidize a trans-Atlantic air service under the control of Lehman Bros., politically powerful New York investment banking house.

The senate is expected to vote tomorrow on the proposed subsidy, which has been the subject of tremendous lobbying activity. Indications are that the senate may eliminate from the pending 1 billion, 152 million dollar treasury-postoffice appropriation bill the administration amendment adding $1,216,000 to subsidize the operation of a trans-Atlantic service between New York and Lisbon by the American Export Airlines. The subsidy would be paid at the rate of $29,418 for each weekly trip.

Opposed by Pan American.

The proposed subsidy is opposed by the Pan American Airways, which now operates a service to Lisbon, the only port in Europe open to American aircraft. American Export Airlines is a subsidiary of the American Export Steamship lines, which is controled by Lehman Bros. The New York banking house is controled by members of the family of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, long a political and personal friend of President Roosevelt, but the governor himself has no financial interest in the firm, according to testimony before the senate appropriations committee.

The principal argument advanced by administration senators is that Pan American, a subsidized monopoly, has no right to object to the payment of a subsidy to a competing line over the same route. In the debate today Senator Josiah W. Bailey [D., N. C.] answered this argument as follows:

Have Monopoly on Surface.

The American Export Lines, Senator Bailey said, have a monopoly of surface transportation to Lisbon and carry 72 per cent of all the mail to Europe. The American President Lines and the United States Lines were required to pay a bonus of $48,000 and $386,000 respectively to the American Export Lines for the privilege of going to Lisbon and picking up refugees, Bailey asserted.

"They are talking about monopoly; I will not hear it," said the North Carolina senator. He said the American Export Lines received an operating subsidy of $4,000,000 and a construction subsidy of $7,798,000 during 1938, 1939, and 1940.

"In that period, under the law, they were allowed to make $848,000," Bailey added. "How much did they make? They made $8,500,000. They made it by way of our subsidy, and yet they come in here and ask for another. They talk about monopoly. They hold up their hands and say, 'Pan-American is trying to influence the congress.'

Fears for Future.

"Hear me, senators. If we let them have their way, they will destroy the subsidies for the ships, and they will destroy foreign air transportation. That is where we will wind up."

Senator Carl Hayden [D., Ariz.] and Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.], supporters of the proposed subsidy, told the senate that the Pan-American system had received subsidies aggregating $90,335,928 from the government.

GERMAN AND JAP UNITS REPORTED ON ANTARCTIC ICE

Byrd Ship Commander Tells of Whaler.

Boston, Mass., May 5 (AP).—Reports that Germans and Japanese had been in the Antarctic and that British naval forces had blown up a Norwegian whaler repair shop at Deception Bay to prevent its use by Germans were brought back from Little America by members of the United States Antarctic expedition, returning today aboard the motorship North Star.

Expedition officers said that rumors of German operations near Deception Island, 500 miles south of South America, had come to them from other mariners.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, commander of the expedition, reiterated a recent declaration that the Palmer peninsula could be used as a base for United States vessels "should the Panama canal be destroyed."

Japanese Whaler Sighted.

Capt. Isak Lystad of the North Star said that before his ship left he had seen a Japanese whaling vessel of the "killer boat type" maneuvering off the coast where the expedition had been forced to leave stores of valuable scientific equipment and other supplies. He said he had seen no sign of a mother ship.

Greatest single accomplishment of the expedition was said by officers to be the charting of the South Pacific coast line of Antarctica, goal of explorers for more than 100 years. Admiral Byrd declared the mapping of the new territory constituted "close to the final chapter" in the claiming by the United States of a million square miles of the icy continent.

TAX COLLECTION RISES $4,700,000 OVER LAST YEAR

Tax collections in Cook county in the year ended April 30 increased by $4,700,000 over the preceding year, the tax delinquency committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce reported yesterday.

The increase resulted chiefly from a pickup of nearly 4 million dollars for the latest year in personal property tax collections. The committee credited part of this to recent efforts of County Treasurer John Toman and Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien to collect personalty taxes by forceful means.

Total collections of all taxes for the year to April 30 were $188,963,000, compared with $184,246,425 in the preceding year. Personal property collections increased to $34,683,000 from $30,858,000. Real estate tax receipts dropped $357,000, and railroad collections increased $1,250,000.

In spite of the increase in personalty receipts, the aggregate amount of personal property taxes unpaid since 1928 increased to 250 million dollars on April 30, compared with 239 millions a year earlier.

PROFITS OF WAR 'FLITTING'; RISE IN COSTS FEARED

Olds Warns Against New Prosperity.

Hoboken, N. J., May 5 (AP).—"It must be remembered that this apparant prosperity may well prove to be of a flitting character, as to a large measure it stems from war abroad and from our own intensive and gigantic defense program," Irving S. Olds, chairman, told stockholders of United States Steel corporation at their annual meeting today.

Irving S. Olds.

"Past experiences," he said, "establish the truth of the statement that periods of war bring only transitory profits and result in long-continued serious disturbances and enduring increases in costs."

Olds reported that operations of the biggest steel producers in the United States had averaged in the first quarter of this year, 100.9 per cent of what had been regarded previously as "tota' capacity," and was more than all the mills in Germany could turn out in a similar period, by latest figures.

Presents Graphic Analysis.

He presented one of the most graphic analyses ever given to the owners of a major corporation of the change which has occurred in the last decade or so in the distribution of corporate income.

These were some of the points his address brought out:

1. In 1929, income of United States Steel from all goods and services was $1,094,000,000; the balance available for dividends, wages and salaries was $618,000,000, or 56.4 per cent of all income; wages and salaries took $420,000,000, or 68 per cent of the balance; taxes were about $55,000,000.

2. In 1940, all income was $1,081,000,000; $541,000,000 was available for dividends, salaries, and wages; $439,000,000 or 81 per cent of the balance available for these three purposes went to wages and salaries; taxes were about $85,420,000.

3. In 1929, the amount available for dividends was $197,500,000; in 1940, it was $102,200,000.

Equals 3 Nations' Rate.

Olds said the corporation's present production rate was equal to the combined output of Great Britain, France, and Belgium in 1939, the latest figures by which comparisons could be made.

"United States Steel is building cruisers, destroyers, merchantmen, tankers," he said.

"It is producing armor and protective deck plate to meet the military and naval expansion program; it is manufacturing shell forgings, unloaded shells and bombs of various sizes; it is sending large quantities of steel to Great Britain and Canada; it is supply a steady flow of steel to manufacturers in different parts of the country who have taken contracts of the army and navy under the defense program; and its ocean going steamers are bringing strategic materials from distant foreign ports to meet defense needs."

J. Newcomb Blackman of New York, a familiar figure at "Big Steel's" annual meetings, presented a resolution which reviewed the recent 10 cents an hour wage boost in the industry, and the freezing of prices by Federal Price Administrator Leon Henderson.

Asks Labor "Loyalty."

The resolution said in part:

"It is high time that the leaders of organized labor should prove their loyalty to our country by initiating or agreeing to a 'no strike and mediation defense program.' We submit that prompt fulfilment of the defense program demands that immediate action be taken by the President of the United States to accomplish this."

The resolution was sidetracked when Chairman Olds ruled it out of order with the remark:

"I think all of us have a great deal of sympathy with what Mr. Blackman has to say. However, I see many objections to having this resolution adopted as the sense of the stockholders present and voting in person. I reluctantly rule it out of order.

"I think the matter goes far beyond United States Steel. To adopt the resolution might do much to destroy the very unity I have urged." Blackman had quoted a speech of Olds on the need for national unity.

MEDIUM PRICED RAILS LEAD RISE IN BOND MARKET

New York, May 5 (AP).—Rails, utilities, and industrials joined in a gentle advance in the bond market today. Gains as a rule were no larger than fractions, but plus signs liberally dotted the list at the close. Improved demand lifted transactions to $9,097,100, face value, compared with $8,334,900 last Friday.

Most in favor appeared to be the medium priced rails. Issues of some roads behind on interest payments or servicing bonds on a contingent "when earned" basis attracted attention. The "receivership" issues, it was observed, stood in a position to profit most from heavier loadings movement—paring deficits yet remaining invulnerable to possibly stiffer general corporation income tax rates.

United States governments in light trading were 6-32ds of a point lower to 5-32ds higher.

EXCHANGE PUTS 11½C CEILING ON COPPER FUTURES

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, said today that the Commodity Exchange, Inc., of New York had agreed to fix a ceiling of 11½ cents a pound on "standard" copper futures.

Standard copper is the base unit from which prices of other grades are measured. Officials said that with electrolytic copper selling at not more than 12½ cents Connecticut valley, the proper relative price for standard copper on the futures copper should be approximately 11½ cents.

Henderson said last week that primary producers of copper should reduce their selling price so as not to exceed 12½ cents.

CASHING PROFITS CURBS ADVANCE IN GRAIN PRICES

Grain prices moved up about a cent a bushel in the early trading yesterday with all deliveries of wheat, corn and lard selling at new season high levels before profit taking developed. May wheat sold at 95 cents at one time, the highest price quoted for that grain since May, 1940.

Profit taking induced by a bulge of 6 cents a bushel on wheat within the last week caused a sharp recession from the best prices. Wheat closed ⅛ cent higher to ⅜ cent lower and corn was ¼ to ⅜ cent higher.

Oats lost ⅛ to ⅜ cent and rye was ⅜ cent higher to ⅛ cent lower. October soy beans sold at a new seasonal high, but the close was easy with last sales 1¼ cents lower to ⅜ cent higher.

BANK BUSINESS LOANS RESUME UPTREND AND REACH $5,532,000,000

Banks' business loans in the week ended April 30 were $23,000,000 larger than in the preceding week, the federal reserve board reported yesterday.

The increase, which raised such loans to $5,532,000,000, marked a resumption of an upward movement in lending which had been interrupted in the preceding week after gains had been recorded for 29 straight weeks.

The board said the demand for loans was particularly brisk in industries engaged in production of armament.

REFEREE MOVES TO SPEED CLOSING OF INSULL CASES

Garfield Charles, special referee in bankruptcy, moved yesterday to expedite settlement of the drawn out bankruptcy cases of two major units in the old Insull utilities pyramid. He filed the first reply to Federal Judge John P. Barnes' recent order for all interested parties to show cause why final decrees should not be entered.

In the Insull Utility Investments, Inc., case Charles said: "It is my opinion that this estate is ready to be closed. As soon as this court has passed on the recommendations relative to allowances of fees and commissions, made by me in the report of the final meeting of creditors filed last Jan. 25, I will declare a final dividend."

For speeding the closing of the Corporation Securities Company of Chicago case he recommended early action on suits filed in the Superior court by the trustees against former officers and directors. Judge Barnes has notified all parties in both cases to appear before him on May 19.

NEW YORK MILK GROUP INDICTED ON PRICE CHARGE

New York, May 5 (AP).—A federal grand jury today indicted Sheffield Farms, Inc., the Borden company, four subsidiary concerns, and 33 individuals on charges of conspiracy to violate the Sherman antitrust law and fix milk prices in the metropolitan area.

The true bill alleged that the defendants—which it said sell 60 per cent of all store-bought milk in the city—conspired to control the prices of wholesale milk from April 1, 1937, to date.

Among the individual defendants were L. A. Von Bomel, president of National Dairy Products corporation and former president of Sheffield, and T. G. Montague, president of the Borden firm.

The October egg delivery rallied from an early loss but receded again to end 0.05 cent lower at 24.30 cents a dozen. The first trading of the season was done in May storage pack contracts at 23 cents, highest opening in four years, but subsequent dealings were 0.15 cent lower.

BIG FURNITURE ORDERS PLACED AT 2 MARKETS

Higher Prices and War Boost Volume.

Buyers in record numbers yesterday opened the midseason home furnishings markets in the American Furniture Mart and the Merchandise Mart. Represenatives of retail stores in all parts of the country placed orders to cover their early fall requirements.

Buyers upset opening day tradition by confirming quantity orders that normally are not placed until the entire market has been surveyed, Percy Wilson, managing director of the Merchandise Mart, said after a check with makers of furniture, lamps, floor coverings, housewares, china, glass and pottery, curtains and draperies. Orders indicated an accelerating trend toward higher quality merchandise, he said.

Prices Up 5 to 10 Per Cent.

Manufacturers reported that price advances of 5 to 10 per cent on new items in the lines and the growing need of goods available for immediate delivery were stimulating the buyers into immediate placement of orders. Another factor was the thought that armament activities may make it difficult to fill future orders.

Expecting the midseason market to be the largest in Chicago's history, with bookings surpassing some of the markets which heretofore had usually rolled up a large business, manufacturers were busy writing orders for deliveries when, as, and if they could be made. Altho the midseason market is normally designed to take care of orders for August and September sales, it has turned into a general order market with deliveries when the manufacturer can make them.

Retail Business Expanding.

Retail business was reported by buyers from all parts of the country to have shown substantial increases during the last two weeks. This was termed a reflection of the boom in armament industries and the stimulation the arms program has had on other lines of business.

Registration of buyers at the American Furniture Mart totaling more than 1,800 was estimated to have equaled the attendance of three days of the 1940 spring market. The Merchandise Mart, with registration recorded only on the furniture floors, reported 605, a gain of 57 per cent over the 383 at the opening day a year ago and the largest for any midseason market.

The markets will continue thru Saturday.

KNUDSEN ASKS NEW SPEEDUP IN MACHINE TOOLS

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—William S. Knudsen, director of the Office of Production Management, made public today a letter to machine tool builders calling on them to place armament jobs ahead of other work and "forget everything except the welfare of our country." He urged the manufacturers to use ingenuity, initiative, and aggressiveness in stimulating production.

1,000 Delivered Daily.

Cleveland, O., May 5 (AP).—Declaring 1,000 machine tools are being delivered daily to plants engaged in the military production program, President F. V. Geier of the National Machine Tool Builders association pleaded today for increased utilization of the equipment by manufacturers.

"Every hour that a critical machine stands idle represents lost production," Geier told the association's spring meeting.

Heads Crane Company

COLLIER ELECTED CRANE PRESIDENT AFTER 38 YEARS

In 1903 John H. Collier went to work for the Crane company as a core maker's helper. Yesterday he was elected president of the 110 million dollar Chicago organization. Directors named him to succeed Charles B. Nolte, who died last week.

Collier had been vice president of the company in charge of manufacture since 1933. He was born in Chicago in 1884. He attended the Chicago public schools and Purdue university.

In 1917 he was named general manager of Crane's Bridgeport, Conn., plant, and in 1929 he went to Europe as president of the French subsidiary and as chairman of the English unit. He returned to Chicago in 1933. Collier's successor as vice president has not been chosen.

Crane company manufactures about 40,000 different items, including pipe fittings, valves, plumbing fixtures, and heating devices.

UTILITY ISSUES OF NEARLY 200 MILLIONS FILED

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission announced tonight that three subsidiaries of the Electric Bond and Share company and the Electric Power and Light corporation had requested approval to issue a total of $110,700,000 in bonds. In addition Union Electric company of Missouri filed a registration statement covering $80,000,000 of bonds and 150,000 shares of preferred stock.

Electric Bond and Share, the commission said, proposes to use about $53,959,000 derived from the refinancing, together with about $6,041,000 of its treasury fund, toward reduction of its preferred stock.

United Gas corporation—$75,000,000 of 3¼ per cent first mortgage and collateral trust, due 1958.

United Gas Pipe Line company—$29,000,000 of 4 per cent first mortgage and collateral trust, due 1961.

Houston Gulf Gas company—$6,700,000 of 4 per cent first mortgage, due 1961.

Chicago Telephone Station Gain Larger than in 1940

Illinois Bell Telephone company reported yesterday that it had 1,042,491 telephones in service in Chicago April 30, compared with 1,006,168 on April 30, 1940. The gain so far in 1941 has been 9,589 phones, compared with a gain of 8,994 in the corresponding 1940 period.

ILLINOIS MINES OPEN, BUT NEW STRIKES FLARE

All Day Gen. Motors Hearing Recessed.

Some 25,000 Illinois bituminous coal miners, members of the United Mine Workers of America [CIO], returned to work yesterday after five weeks of idleness, but new strikes and strike threats flared at numerous points thruout the country.

The reopening of more than 70 Illinois mines came after union officials and the Illinois Coal Operators' association had reached a temporary agreement late Saturday night. Under the agreement the new $7 basic wage scale, in effect temporarily in the northern Appalachian area, was established. Meanwhile Ray Edmundson, state president of the UMWA, speeded plans to appeal from the unemployment compensation division ruling that miners were not entitled to payments during their idleness.

Alabama Mines Still Closed.

Reopening of the Illinois coal mines left Alabama the only area where soft coal mines were still shut down. Negotiations between the union and Alabama operators broke down last week with operators refusing a $1 per day increase in wages.

Meanwhile a defense mediation board panel in Washington recessed after a day-long attempt to prevent a CIO strike involving 165,000 workers in General Motors corporation plants in 22 states. The strike originally was set for April 28, following breakdown of direct negotiations in Detroit, but was postponed. The union demands a 10 cents an hour wage increase, a union shop, paid vacations, and seniority rights. The company has offered pay boosts of 2 to 5 cents an hour.

General Motors reopened its strike-bound Packard Electric division plant at Warren, O., but some 500 pickets surrounded the plant and it was reported no production employés entered. It manufactures electrical wiring for airplanes, tanks, and tractors.

OTHER STRIKE NEWS.

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—Company and union negotiators seeking to end a strike on the Pennsylvania Greyhound Bus Line recessed late today with no settlement in sight.

They met for 2½ hours here at the invitation of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. Union officials said there was no change in the status of the controversy.

The union is demanding a closed shop, improved working conditions, and a wage increase for drivers.

The tieup on the bus line affected schedules as far west as St. Louis, Louisville, and Chicago, and the eastern seaboard area from Washington to New York City.

Shoe Strikers Paid Off.

Paducah, Ky., May 5 (AP).—Employés of the International Shoe company factory, shut down since last Tuesday by a strike, were paid off today with instructions to walk in, get their money, and walk out again. In St. Louis a company official said that a negotiating committee representing the employés is scheduled to meet with company spokesmen there tomorrow morning.

400 Paper Workers Out.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 5 [Special].—Members of the CIO Paper Makers union in two plants of the Sutherland Paper company, totaling approximately 400 of the 1,890 employés on the pay roll o fthe company, were on strike today. Arthur Raab, member of the state mediation board, is expected tomorrow morning to endeavor to bring about a settlement. L. W. Sutherland, president of the com-

INDUSTRIALS SLIP AS RAIL STOCKS REACH '41 PEAKS

Tax Worries Send Market on Two Way Trail.

New York, May 5 (AP).—Stocks were on a two-way trail today as a few rails made new 1941 highs and a handful of industrials slipped to the lowest levels in nearly a year. Altho there were a few hopeful business items to prop market sentiment, war skepticism remained a buying barrier along with tax worries and the spread of governmental controls over industry.

Helping the rise in rail issues were forecasts of a further bulge in traffic as much ocean tonnage was expected to be diverted to land transport when ships are requisitioned for arms purposes.

Rate Rise Helps Steels.

Steels, hesitant for a time, came back at the last when this week's mill operations were officially estimated up 2.5 points at 96.8 per cent of capacity.

Motors were indifferent as the labor outlook still was far from clear in this industry and thoughts of more stringent curtailment of output for armament requirements persisted. General Motors' $1 common dividend was voted after the close.

Among stocks at new 1941 tops were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Atlantic Coast Line, Continental Baking A and preferreds of Pere Marquette and Nickel Plate, each of which rose more than 2 points.

CHICAGO PRICES UNEVEN.

Prices continued their irregular course on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transfer of 15,000 shares. Commonwealth Edison was the volume leader in turnover of 1,600 shares, closing at 26¼, unchanged.

Only two dually listed stocks recorded changes from the New York close during trading from 2 to 2:30 o'clock in Chicago. Pennsylvania railroad declined ⅛ point to 24, and Swift International rose ⅛ to 18⅛.

STAPLES SWEPT TO NEW HIGHS IN FUTURE TRADING

Commodities for future delivery continued to push upward yesterday and wool tops, rubber, cottonseed oil, hides, and cocoa climbed to peak levels for the season or longer. Speculative enthusiasm, touched off late last week by revived fears of shipping shortages, swept markets higher early. Profit taking slowed down a few staples and sharply pared rubber's earlier gains.

Wool Highest in 10 Years.

Closing prices were 0.8 to 2.2 cents a pound higher, the May delivery selling at $1.31, 1 to 1½ cents over any previous price for a contract in the 10 year history of the New York Wool Top exchange. The July position was $1.28½ and the cash market advanced 1½ cents.

Rubber futures rose as much as ¼ cent a pound with active speculative demand, but slumped for losses of 0.02 to 0.33 cent at the close.

Santos coffee and domestic sugar posted substantial gains on greatly increased turnovers. Lead and silk also were higher, while tin was moderately lower and copper was irregular. Prices follow:

SUPREME COURT STUDIES WATER DIVERSION PLEA

Eastern States Oppose Illinois Petition.

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—The United States Supreme court took under consideration today a petition by Illinois for permission to increase its diversion of water from Lake Michigan thru the Chicago drainage canal.

Arguments were concluded with opposition to the petition from Timothy F. Cohan, assistant attorney general of New York, and Thomas J. Herbert, attorney general of Ohio. Four other states, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, and Michigan, also oppose the Illinois request.

Charges "Wilful Defiance."

Cohan asserted that Illinois had been guilty of "wilful defiance" of a 1930 Supreme court decree by failing to provide what he described as adequate sewage treatment facilities.

Attorney General Herbert asserted that "the real objective is to get more water for more power."

Albert J. Meserow, assistant attorney general of Illinois who argued last Friday, said in rebuttal that if additional water was desired for power it would be requested for the winter time as well as for the summer. He said that Illinois was not contending that people were dying from the present conditions or that a general epidemic exists now but asserted that there was a "health menace."

Meserow predicted that conditions would be worse this summer and next summer unless the diversion of water was increased.

Deny Menace to Health.

Joint counsel for the six contesting states challenged an Illinois contention that present conditions constituted "a menace to health."

H. H. Naujoks, special assistant to the attorneys general of the lake states opposing Illinois' request, presented statistics from the master's report regarding sewage conditions expected during the next few years. He concluded that the condition of the waterway at Lockport and Joliet is as good this year as in 1938.

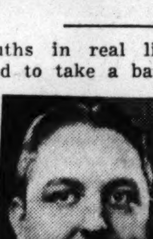
Cohan quoted from the master's report regarding health conditions at Joliet, Ill., asserting the evidence showed these conditions are "very good."

Tax Applied Out of State.

The Supreme court held today that the Indiana gross income tax may be applied to services rendered out of state customers by the Ingram-Richardson Manufacturing Company of Indiana, Inc.

The company enameled metal parts it brought from the customers to its plant at Frankfort, Ind., and then returned them to the customers. Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes delivered the decision.

Electric Atom Tracer Proves Mechanical Sherlock Holmes



Dr. Wm. E. Shoupp.

Experienced sleuths in real life soon may be forced to take a back seat as professional detectives when an electrical atom tracer is turned loose to unravel mysteries.

This detective, which thru radioactive particles keeps close tab on the habits of atoms, already has won its spurs on a limited scale as an aid to scientific research. Known as the "Geiger counter," the device thus far has untangled such brain teasers as how growing plants make sugar and where certain food elements go in the human body.

Plans Quantity Production.

Thus far only a few of these scientific sleuths have been in use. Most of these were tailormade and in some cases not too reliable. However, Dr. William E. Shoupp, physicist with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, announced yesterday that the company is planning quantity production of Geiger counters, making the devices available to research men in universities and industry.

He explained that the electrical detective operates with "tagged atoms" which, having been made artificially radioactive, send out radiations similar to those from radium. These radiations, he said, are picked up and recorded by the Geiger counter.

"The tagged atoms mingle with others of their kind and follow them around," Dr. Shoupp said. "Like 'fifth columnists,' all the time they are broadcasting waves, which are radio messages, revealing their location to the detective."

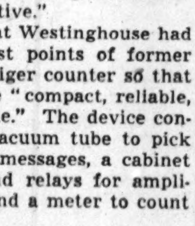
He reported that Westinghouse had combined the best points of former designs of the Geiger counter so that the device will be "compact, reliable, and easy to handle." The device consists of a glass vacuum tube to pick up the radiation messages, a cabinet of radio tubes and relays for amplifying messages, and a meter to count them.

Traces Course in Body.

For several years the Geiger counter has been used by medical research workers for determining paths taken in the human body by such food elements as iron, copper, iodine, and sodium, Dr. Shoupp said.

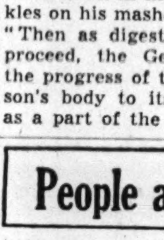
"For example, if they are interested in learning where sodium goes, they mix a little radioactive sodium with the sodium in the salt a person sprinkles on his mashed potatoes," he said. "Then as digestion and assimilation proceed, the Geiger counter traces the progress of the salt thru the person's body to its final resting place as a part of the body structure."

People and Events



Ernani do Amaral Peixoto.

A group of Brazilian officials headed by Commander Ernani do Amaral Peixoto, governor of Rio de Janeiro, on a tour of inspection of American industry, visited Chicago plants yesterday. The party toured the steel mill area and other industrial sections, and visited Pressed Steel Car company's plant, where tanks and shells are being made for the government. In the group was the governor's wife, daughter of President Cetulio Z. Vargas of Brazil.



T. R. Scott.

T. R. Scott, chief engineer of the power cable division of Standard Telephones and Cables, Ltd., of London, yesterday explained the new technical applications of "Styrene" insulating material for the rapid repair of electric light and power cables. He spoke at the meeting of the Edison Electric institute in the Edgewater Beach hotel. Scott said that this type of insulating material was used for a "considerable number of war purposes" in England.

George A. Whitehurst, for the last five years Chicago district industrial engineer of Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, has been appointed assistant to the chief engineer of the company. His new headquarters will be in Pittsburgh.

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

Corn Allotment Cut.

May 5, 1941.

THE corn acreage allotment at the Fox River farm has been lowered steadily by the AAA for the last two years until now the farm managers say that under its provision they could carry on only the lightest live stock program and likely would lose money during the year's operations.

This is one of the many reasons why the farm is quitting the program after following it for three years. The farm men have found that the program has so disturbed the balance of the farm's working plan that they cannot continue under the triple A and run the farm properly.

The corn allotment for the farm was 330 acres in 1939. This year AAA officials said the farm must not plant more than 307 acres if it wishes to enjoy the benefits of the program. The farm operators figure they can grow about 13,000 bushels of corn on this acreage.

Not Enough for Feed.

However, 13,000 bushels will not fill their needs for feed. In the feedlot there are more than 50 heavy cattle on feed. In the pasture there is a purebred herd of Angus numbering more than 150. The cattle on the farm alone will take a large amount of corn.

Aside from cattle, there will be around 300 hogs on feed this year that will demand large corn reserves. Cows, chickens, horses, and sheep also will need corn and small grains. Yet under the AAA program the farm would be unable to raise enough feed for them.

If the farm managers allowed the amount of pasture land set by the AAA to dictate the number of cattle they should feed out, they would have to double their herds. If they did so, they would have to go outside and buy the grain to fatten the herds.

Straw Also Problem.

Another serious problem that confronts the farm under the triple A is the shortage of straw. The acreage allotment for small grains has been reduced to the point where the farm cannot get enough straw to take care of the live stock. Straw is essential in feeding stock, as the straw helps to form manure which goes back to the soil to be plowed under to enrich the land. The value of the manure resulting from feeding cattle is no small item in figuring profits.

Last fall an emergency occurred on the farm that the AAA program did not take into account. A field of 40 acres was seeded to alfalfa in accordance with the soil building program. Because of hard winter weather, the ground heaved the seed out and the field was a total loss. The farm operators could not afford to put in more alfalfa and needed a pay crop in that field to repay their loss. They couldn't put one in, however.

"A crib full of corn is money in the bank," Clarence Thurow, the farm manager, said. "It is often the basis for a farmer's credit at his bank and in his community. However, under the program we no longer have it and our feed supplies become uncertain and our profits are subject to the fluctuations of the grain markets."

Feed Reserve Needed.

A large general farm, such as the Fox River farm, on which live stock form the main basis for money making, and are the marketing form of the farm grain crops, a reserve of feed is necessary in order to plan the farm work from year to year. When that reserve is gone the farmer is almost reduced to working from day to day without a long range plan of feeding in mind. This tends to make the farming haphazard and uncertain and does not call forth the farmer's best efforts.

The government has called upon farmers for bigger and better hogs, more dairy products, and in general, an increase in farm production. Yet any effort toward this increase in production is stifled by the AAA program which denies its privileges to the farmer who attempts to answer this call.

This year the Fox River farm will expand its production, abandoning the triple A program, and will build up a supply of feed and restore balance to the farm program so that from its fields will come a steady stream of cattle, hogs, and grains to help supply the needs of the country.

ICKES' 'SABOTAGE' ROUTE TO POWER DOMINATION TOLD

Utilities Deny They Fail to Meet All Needs.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Portland, Ore., May 5.—The federal hydro power program and Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes' current attempt to gain control of all electric facilities in this region have virtually sabotaged the private companies' power projects in the Pacific northwest. This was what THE TRIBUNE survey showed today in rebuttal to the statement that the government "had to" do what it is doing.

"The greatest resource of the northwest is hydro electric power, but it was never developed by any private agency, so the government had to do it," Dr. Paul J. Raver, Bonneville-Grand Coulee power administrator under Ickes, told THE TRIBUNE.

Says Private Capital Balks.

Hailing what he termed "an entirely new economy," Dr. Raver twice came back to his point that private industry would not do the job. He asserted that private utilities would not develop power sites until "contracts for use of the power could be laid on the table."

But a different situation was found by reviewing the work of the private utility companies, which had been furnishing power as requested for many years before Ickes' leap to prominence in the New Deal cabinet.

THE TRIBUNE also was told that the avowed New Deal friends of public ownership had refused to yield funds for public power development that would compete with Iskes' plants. Again, this seemed to show that mere development of power sites is not the aim of Ickes.

Construction Work Halted.

"As soon as the final decision of the federal government to proceed with the construction of the Bonneville project was announced, this company abruptly stopped construction on future steps of the Oak Grove project. Approximately $10,000,000 had been invested out of a total of $20,000,000 which was planned for the complete development.

"When the Bonneville project was announced, a ten foot tunnel was being driven four miles thru a mountain to tap an additional source of water. It had been driven 4,000 feet when the work was abandoned."

Program Sharply Cut Down.

The Rock Island dam of the Puget Sound Power and Light company likewise is without its quota of generators. There were to have been 12 producing 240,000 kilowatts, but development lapsed so that only 80,000 kilowatts emerge from this source.

"Buildings, dams—everything is there but the generators," said Frank McLaughlin, president of this company. "We were struck a foul blow by the government which collects heavy taxes from us. We would have gone ahead but for Bonneville.

"The burocrats say they are taking over power industries because these are based on a natural resource. On the same basis they could take over every other industry. I wonder whether the people who favor condemnation of our properties would want their own homes, farms, and industries condemned or lined up in competition with tax supported competitors."

Kinsey M. Robinson, president of the Washington Water Power company, said that if the government had not stepped in the private companies would have continued to build in preparation for the future as they have always done.

Public Projects Blocked.

The great Skagit river project of the Seattle City Light company, a pioneer in public ownership, was stalled for lack of funds after the depression struck. Unable to get money from Ickes' Public Works administration, Seattle City Light finally turned to Wall street for the loan and got it.

Ickes last month wrote a letter to Mayor Harry P. Cain of Tacoma, Wash., urging that the city postpone an $11,000,000 expansion of its municipal power system. Voters had approved the project.

Utilities Commissioner R. D. O'Neil said that Tacoma could manufacture its own power for 1.44 mills per kilowatt hour compared with 2.8 mills to be paid for Booneville power. Fearful of Ickes, however, the city council voted against immediate expansion.

"I don't know whether Ickes meant to threaten us or not, but he is in a position to retaliate against those he doesn't like," Mayor Cain told THE TRIBUNE.

SOUTH AMERICAN MOVE TO BECOME INDUSTRIAL TOLD

Banker Says Nationalistic Sentiment Is Rising.

Frank McNair.

How South American countries with an intense spirit of nationalism are attempting to industrialize and become less dependent upon other nations was described yesterday by Frank McNair, vice president of the Harris Trust & Savings bank.

He has just returned from a six weeks "industrial exploration" tour which took him 16,000 miles by air thru six South American countries with a group of 20 business leaders. The tour was sponsored by the National Research council.

Chile Plans Steel Industry.

McNair cited as one example the plans of Chile to develop steel manufacturing by transporting iron ore from the northern part of the country to the south where water power is available. Lack of coal, he said, has prevented development of steel making facilities near the ore deposits.

Indicating the nationalistic trend, he reported that the Brazilian government has just decreed that by 1946 all banks must be owned by Brazilians exclusively.

Another major objective of South American nations is the development of new markets for their products to replace those lost thru the war, McNair said. They realize that it is more important to their economy for the United States to purchase their products than to lend them money.

A company is now being formed under the auspices of the Argentine government devoted to market studies and research for the purpose of placing Argentine products in the United States, he added.

Will Open New York Office.

An office is expected to be opened in New York where material will be gathered and relayed to Buenos Aires, showing the kinds of merchandise to be produced for acceptance in this country.

The Central Bank of Argentina has invited United States representatives to take part in the formation of the company. Success of the venture would provide an increased amount of exchange being made available for the purchase of American merchandise by Argentina, he said.

SEVEN-UP.

I would like to determine whether the Seven-Up Bottling company which operates in Missouri is owned privately. Do you have any statistics on the company's operations?—J. L.

Answer: The Seven-Up Bottling company [St. Louis, Mo.] is owned by approximately 1,000 stockholders, but control of the company is held by the management. Outstanding capital stock consists of 9,420 shares of 5½ per cent cumulative preferred stock of $20 par value, and 103,415 shares of no par common stock, of which 30,000 shares were distributed publicly two years ago.

Formed in 1928, the company bottles and distributes a soft drink in the St. Louis area. It holds a franchise from the Seven-Up company, St. Louis, to operate in 27 counties in Missouri and in 26 counties in Illinois.

Seven-Up company owns the trade mark and the formula for the sirup from which the beverage is made. It sells the sirup to bottling companies licensed by it. The company is closely held.

Net income of the bottling company was as follows in the last four years: 1937, $144,640; 1938, $187,976; 1939, $117,144, and 1940, $144,153. Dividends on the preferred stock have been paid regularly and payments on the common were as follows. 1938, $1.25; 1939 and 1940, $1.40 each year, and thus far in 1941, two quarterly dividends of 35 cents each.

CHICAGO TUNNEL.

I would like to know the business of the Chicago Tunnel Terminal corporation.—H. B.

Answer: The Chicago Tunnel Terminal corporation is a holding concern and owns all the stock of four companies engaged in various phases of operating a freight tunnel system under Chicago's central business district.

The companies and their business follow: Chicago Tunnel company operates the narrow gauge railroad tunnels; Chicago Warehouse and Terminal company operates terminals and freight stations for shippers who have access to the tunnels; Chicago Tunnel Transport company operates motor trucks for moving freight to and from the tunnels, and the Chicago Steam corporation buys and distributes steam along a small part of the system.

The parent company is closely held. It has outstanding 20,000 shares of no par common stock. Operations of the system have been unprofitable in recent years, and losses ranged from $80,000 to $96,000 a year. The properties are valued by the company at almost 8 million dollars.

STATE COAL MINE STRIKE ENDS, BUT NEW ONES FLARE

Mediation Board Recesses Gen. Motors Hearing.

pany, said the company has a "valid existing contract" with an independent union.

Strike at Stove Plant.

Lorain, O., May 5 (AP).—CIO Steel Workers Organizing committee members struck at the American Stove company plant today, making 450 workers idle. They demanded a 10 cent hourly wage increase.

Direct Negotiations Fail.

Washington, D. C., May 5 (AP).—The month old strike of 495 CIO workers at the J. Sklar Manufacturing company plant at Long Island City, N. Y., was referred back to the defense mediation board today after failure of direct negotiations in New York. The firm holds military orders for surgical instruments.

The dispute over wages, working conditions, and renewal of a labor agreement was under mediation for several days prior to April 24, when it was decided to resume direct negotiations.

The mediation board opened hearings today on the strike threat, involving $2,000,000 of artillery equipment orders, at the Minneapolis-Honeywell company at Minneapolis.

Allis Shutdown Averted.

The strike, set by the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America for April 28, was postponed in response to appeals from the board. The dispute involves a demand for union recognition.

The board said that leaders of 1,200 CIO electrical workers who had threatened to strike today at the Pittsburgh plant of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company had telegraphed assurance they would seek to avert the stoppage pending mediation efforts.

Await New Mediator.

La Porte, Ind., May 5 [Special].—John W. Cofer, Chicago, is expected in La Porte tomorrow to act as mediator in negotiations between Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company and the United Farm Equipment Workers, CIO, over wages and working conditions. Cofer will replace David Roadley, who resigned from conciliation service.

Phelps-Dodge Strike Ends.

Elizabeth, N. J., May 5 [Special].—More than 1,700 employés of the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products corporation plant here returned to work today after a four week strike. The United Electrical, Radio, and Machine workers of America [CIO] agreed to end the walkout, pending negotiations with management on wage and hour demands.

At this time we will only interview men living on the South Side and southern Cook county.
